Bigger Militia to Get Survival Role

Mobile Columns Boosted

OTTAWA (CP)—The 42,000-member Canadian militia will be enlarged to handle an expanded national survival role, it was learned Monday night.

Some 200 mobile survival columns will be established instead of the 66 originally planned.

Main tasks of these columns would be radiation detection, reconnaissance and rescue in event of nuclear bombardment of this country.

NEW HEADQUARTERS

The army will also establish 15 headquarters 30 miles from the main target areas in Canada. These target areas have never been named but are the major cities of Canada, plus a few other vital centres.

These three main factors in widening the army's national survival role—a bigger militia, more mobile columns and target area headquarters—have all been approved by the cabinet.

DETAILS PREPARED

Army commands across Canada now are working on the details of these three factors. The size of the planned increase in the militia—the reserve army—was not accurately known.

Under the original plan for mobile columns, each unit was to comprise some 800 men. Some 200 columns would require about 160,000 men. The regular army in Canada numbers about 40,000 and the militia total was 42,000 last Dec. 31. This would leave the requirement at 78,000 men.

VOLUNTEERS ADDED

However, it is extremely unlikely the militia will take on this many. The majority of mobile columns will have regular and militia troops as a nucleus and civilian volunteers would be added.

The militia will be expanded particularly in areas near target cities.

The defence department has made no secret of its belief that the armed forces could not supply enough personnel to handle the casualties of a nuclear war.

Britain Backs Kuwait Ruler Against Iraq

(CP from AP-Reuters)

BAGHDAD, Iraq—Backed by Britain, oil-rich Kuwait pledged itself Monday to fight rather than accept Premier Abdul Karim Kassem's claims that it is an "integral part" of Iraq.

Kuwait radio broadcast a government statement saying it would defend its borders. The radio expressed confidence that peace-loving countries, "especially sister Arab states," would support its week-old independence.

SUPPORT CALLED

The radio later reported that King Saud of Saudi Arabia had cabled his support to the ruler of Kuwait, Sheikh Abdullah, and said "we are with you in the fight and struggle."

The broadcast from the neighboring sheikhdom came after the Iraqi armed forces chief-of-staff Maj.-Gen. Ahmed Salem el Abdi pledged army support for Kassem's claim. Baghdad Radio broadcast 12 telegrams of support for Kassem, mainly from highly-ranked officers.

But there were indications that Iraq would find scant support elsewhere in the troubled Middle East for its claim on Kuwait.

PLOT ALLEGED

The little territory whose oil wealth earns its ruler $3,000,000 a day made its stand clear after consultations with Britain, which granted Kuwait independence only last week.

Kassem charged Britain with plotting against Iraq and the Arabs by attempting to form a "Southeast Arab Federation" of sheikhdoms to check Arab progress toward the Indian Ocean.

"Our gigantic step will uproot imperialism from this good earth," Kassem said.

SHEIKH ABDULLAH

PREMIER KASSEM

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Ministers Hayato Ikeda of Japan and Diefenbaker of Canada agreed Monday to promote closer trade links between their two countries, including establishment of Japanese industry in Canada.

They agreed to establish a Canadian-Japanese ministerial committee to exchange visits and study the economic problems of the two countries.

IS INTERESTED

A joint communique issued after Mr. Ikeda's departure said Japan is interested in developing Japanese investments in Canada, and Mr. Diefenbaker "indicated mutually satisfactory arrangements would be made for the entry to Canada of Japanese nationals required in connection with certain of the operations of these enterprises."

JOHN D INVITED

Mr. Ikeda also renewed Japan's invitation for the Canadian prime minister to visit Tokyo, and Mr. Diefenbaker accepted—leaving the date to be fixed "at a mutually convenient time in the near future."

Earlier, after the two leaders met in Mr. Diefenbaker's office for 90 minutes, they said Japan would provide a big market for Canadian raw materials, principally iron ore and copper.

REAFFIRMED

The communique on the 24-hour visit to Ottawa said Mr. Ikeda reaffirmed the principle of orderly marketing of Japanese goods in Canada, to avoid injurious competition with Canadian industry.

Mr. Ikeda said he was "very much satisfied" with his talks with the Canadian government.

Japan would double her imports of Canadian goods in the next decade, he predicted.

TRADE DEFICIT

He hoped Canada would more than double her imports of Japanese goods, to overcome a trade deficit his country now has with Canada.

He admitted, however, he was not satisfied with the system of quotas Japan has had to apply to voluntarily restrict exports of textiles and other products to Canada. With increased trade, he hoped they could be dropped.

BROUGHT ABOUT

The increase in trade, last year totalling $280,000,000, would be brought about by doubling Japan's gross national product.

DONALD FLEMING

LESTER PEARSON

OTTAWA (CP)—The Coyne dispute produced a political stalemate in the Commons Monday as all chances of a compromise disappeared.

Opposition Leader Pearson asked the government to permit James E. Coyne, Bank of Canada governor, to appear before a Commons committee on banking so that he can give his side of the controversy with the cabinet.

"The answer to his question is no," replied Finance Minister Fleming, thus turning down the only real demand made by the Liberals, who themselves have differed with Mr. Coyne's policy.

Later the Opposition leader, through a proposed amendment to the government bill asking Parliament to fire the governor, formally moved that Mr. Coyne be called as a committee witness. The OCF immediately supported the amendment.

Mr. Fleming, opening the debate, disclosed that in the winter of 1957-58 Mr. Coyne had rejected "firmly and angrily" a government request involving an easing of the money supply.

'Government Defied'

That was the reason the government declined responsibility for the central bank's monetary policy, he said.

Mr. Coyne was given every chance to retire quietly and with dignity, Mr. Fleming said in referring to the government's May 30 request for his resignation. But the governor had defied "in the most deliberately provocative manner" 1960 Bill of Rights provisions not only the government but as an individual right.

Mr. Fleming said the central bank's directors, who asked him June 13 to resign.

Mr. Fleming said the central issue is the question of who governs the country.

Mr. Pearson said the only real question is one of "decency and justice"—whether Mr. Coyne will get the fair hearing which the government's own 1960 Bill of Rights proclaims not only the government but as an individual right.

'Coyne Made Scapegoat'

Mr. Fleming said starting in autumn, 1959, Mr. Coyne had made public speeches extending over one and a half years dealing not with monetary policy but with tax and economic policy—the realm of the government and "one of the most controversial aspects of the political spectrum."

Mr. Fleming said Mr. Coyne's conduct since June 13 "of itself" had made his dismissal necessary.

Mr. Pearson recalled that the finance minister many times had "praised Coyne, not buried him" in the Commons.

There had been many opportunities, all ignored, for Mr. Fleming to meet "head-on" any conflict between himself and the bank governor.

Mr. Coyne was being made a scapegoat because "a banker can be treated this way without any votes being lost."

The Commons will resume its budget debate today.

It's Blackmail Coyne Charges

OTTAWA (CP)—James E. Coyne Monday accused the government of "blackmail" and "sneaky tactics" and demanded a full hearing by a parliamentary committee before he is fired by Parliament as governor of the Bank of Canada.

The governor made the accusations in a letter to Finance Minister Fleming.

Mr. Coyne said he wants to make this point: "That the position of governor of Canada's central bank will be destroyed, and the whole institution will become merely an arm of a political machine."

If the governor is to be terminated into resigning whenever the government of the day wants him to, without any issue of policy being raised."

He said the "sudden and unexplained demand" for his resignation "and the blackmailing tactics used" suggested that the government had a plan to call a snap election — without a budget, or perhaps right after the budget.

Bank Chief Hails Budget

VANCOUVER (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming's budget is "realistic and believable" and gives Canadians the opportunity to better their competitive position. A. T. Lambert, president of the Toronto-Dominion Bank, said Monday.

We Have the Power—Nikita

No Compromise Stand on Berlin

BERLIN (UPI)—Nikita Khrushchev said Monday night on the 13th anniversary of the Berlin airlift a separate peace treaty with East Germany this year was a "compulsive necessity." He boasted Russia had the power to carry out its aims.

Khrushchev gave his newest warning to the West in a telegram to East German chief of state Walter Ulbricht.

"The Soviet Union and all nations of the socialist camp in the future will fight decisively for peace," Khrushchev said. "We have the power to halt all aggressors if they attempt to destroy the achievements of all the socialist nations."

Khrushchev's stand on Berlin and Germany was uncompromising. He did not refer to Western objections that the Soviets could not unilaterally end Western rights in Berlin.

"The interests of peace and European security make a German peace treaty and the normalization of conditions in West Berlin on that basis a compulsive necessity," said Khrushchev.

He said a peace treaty was necessary to stabilize conditions in Germany and all of Europe and pave the way for peaceful ties between East and West Germany.

In an emotional speech Sunday to a Communist party rally in Alma Ata, capital of Kazakhstan, Khrushchev declared Russia by 1970 will shove the U.S. aside as the world's No. 1 nation. He said: "We, the country which has existed for only 44 years, the country which was far behind Western countries, has come to occupy second place in the world."

"England, mistress of the seas; England, which had Africa and Asia—we left them behind us."

"Comrades! There is only America. "And this country can be compared to a worn-out runner. He had the prize—but others have been born, trained and are now running."

LET'S TALK

By Rudolf Flesch

A few weeks ago I wrote a column encouraging parents to put their children through the academic course in high school.

Among the letters I received from readers there were two, one pro and one con, that seem worth quoting at length. Since the favorable letter seems to answer the unfavorable one, I'll quote from the "anti" letter first:

"You write, 'And so the vast majority of American children go through high school learning an easy mishmash of general education that doesn't prepare their minds for anything.' What constitutes 'mishmash'?"

The phrase "prepare their minds" means little to me in that you do not define the term and there are a number of definitions available...

Serious Effort

"You write, 'The latest findings in educational psychology show that a child's IQ invariably goes up as soon as he makes a serious effort to master the so-called hard subjects.' Please cite the research that supports that statement..."

"You write, 'With sufficient effort, spirit and ambition, almost any child can work himself up to college level.' Please cite the support for that statement..."

It Wasn't Easy

"So when I was 51, I decided to go to high school. I took an accelerated course in a prep school. I was the oldest there and sat next to teenagers in class. It was not easy, but I finished in two years with marks not too good. I realize now that I should have taken a slower pace."

"What I am trying to say is, that while I was in high school, I read and heard so much about those words, 'college material' that I had doubts that I could do college work. Those words have always haunted me. And they do to this day even though I now go to college at night and have 20 credits. I am still afraid to take more than three subjects a semester."

"Can you imagine how I felt when I read your article? You are absolutely right."

Cause of Collagen Diseases Still Baffles Medical Men

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, MD

"Dear Dr. Molner: I would appreciate information on collagen diseases. Is there a cure?"—J. W."

"Dear Doctor: Is there a successful treatment for disseminated scleroderma?"—E. P."

Collagen diseases are a group having one thing in common. They are disorders of the connective tissues of the body—the supporting framework other than the skeleton itself.

Injury, inflammation or possibly allergic response which causes some sort of reaction—these are common to the various collagen diseases. However, the exact cause is not known.

NAMES LISTED

Diseases of the collagen type include rheumatoid arthritis, scleroderma (a hardening of the skin), disseminated lupus erythematosus, polyarthritis nodosa, certain types of thrombocytopenia (a deficiency of platelets in the blood), dermatomyositis.

That's a collection of big words—and the list isn't complete. If this is somewhat difficult for readers, it's also difficult for doctors. But we are getting somewhere with these diseases.

CLUE GIVEN

There are certain blood tests that give a clue to, or help confirm the presence of, collagen diseases. Skin and muscle biopsies are used, since these tissues may be involved.

Treatment depends on the severity of the disease. Balanced diet may be the principal thing needed or, in the case of lupus, avoidance of sunlight may be basic. And the steroid drugs are used extensively to lessen inflammation and modify the effect on tissues that are involved.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have been told that ergosterol drugs should not be used while one is pregnant, but they have been of so much use to me in preventing migraine headaches that I can hardly give up that relief. Do I have to?"—O. G."

The ergot drugs should not be used carefully during pregnancy nor any time. However, a different form, dihydroergotamine, which can be used as an injection, has been used

Thieves Caught Before Owner Knew Car Gone

Gary Roy Henderson, 18, of

Two youths appeared in Colwood police court yesterday morning and pleaded guilty to a joint charge of car theft, following prompt action by RCMP of the Colwood detachment.

Court was told the two had stolen a car belonging to Clifford G. Brown, Forward Drive, Belmont Park, about 3:15 a.m. Saturday and later wrecked the car on Happy Valley Road. Damage has been estimated at about $500.

RCMP picked up the two youths about 10 a.m. Saturday and notified the car's owner—who at that time did not even know his car had been stolen.

In city court, Edward William Steele, 1021 Cook, pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving, following a minor rear-end collision late Saturday on Douglas at Herald. He was fined $250 and restricted to driving for emergency business purposes for six months.

Also in city court, Cyril J. D. Moss, 675 Burnside East, was fined $20 after pleading guilty to failing to make his records available to inspection under the Unemployment Insurance Act.

Sunday Closing Ruling

Coin-Wash Protest

Serious threat to Sunday operation of coin laundries is contained in a decision handed down yesterday by the Supreme Court of Canada.

The ruling, upholding a decision of the Ontario Court of Appeal, makes the coin laundry operators liable to charges under the Lord's Day Act if they remain open on Sundays. Protests were sounded at once by two Greater Victoria operators.

One, Gordon Carter, predicted that other coin vending machines might come under the same ban as all were run on the same principle: round-the-clock service without attendants.

"Why pick on coin laundries?" he asked. Mrs. W. I. Shillington, wife of another coin laundry operator, maintained that the business was one of service, not of sales.

In addition, she pointed out, many people it was the only day in the week when they could get at their washing.

Highways Minister Gagliardi says he is pleased with the co-operation he received from Alaskan officials during a recent trip but "it's about time President Kennedy passed in his 'space ship to the moon race' and got down to earth to help build a connecting link to southern Alaska."

Lifeguard's Action Saves City Youth

Prompt action Sunday by a young lifeguard at Beaver Lake is credited with saving the life of a teen-aged Victoria swimmer.

James Simpson, 18, of 3017 Quadra, according to Saanich police, was swimming in the lake and got into difficulties out near the middle.

Hans Rudwal, 21, of 1116 McClure, young German immigrant employed as a lifeguard for Victoria-Saanich beaches and park committee since March, spotted the swimmer in trouble.

Within seconds he had reached Simpson and brought him to shore. Artificial respiration was applied until Saanich fire department's ambulance and inhalator arrived.

Simpson was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital where he was treated and later released.

how do you judge a man's worth?

By the amount of money he can earn—or by the measure of his service to society? If the latter, then B.C.'s dentists must stand in high regard. For B.C. is in urgent need of more dental care—and today there are far too few qualified men to meet this need.

Time, money and serious study are required to become a dentist. He must undertake at least six years of specialized university training to obtain his doctor's degree. He must also possess good judgment and a high degree of manual dexterity and digital skill. Above all, he must have a sincere interest in people and a desire to serve them.

Could you measure up to these standards? If so, write for a pamphlet called Dentistry As A Career. Dentistry will demand much from you, but it offers you greater opportunities to serve your fellow men than any other profession.

Invasion Earns U.S. 'Black Eye'

By HAROLD MORRISON
(Canadian Press)

Latin-America Reactions Upset Adlai

Adlai Stevenson's 18-day swing through 10 Latin American countries has brought home to the Kennedy administration the extent of the damage done to United States prestige by the ill-planned Cuban invasion attempt.

The shrewd and discerning Stevenson obviously was sent into South America not so much to test reaction to Kennedy's $500,000,000 program of economic aid as to measure how much friendship and support of U.S. foreign policy there is in South America in the wake of the Cuban invasion.

He came away depressed.

Stevenson told a National Press Club luncheon in Washington Monday that he found the U.S. had suffered a 'black eye' in organizing, arming and encouraging the Cuban exiles in an unsuccessful bid to overthrow Fidel Castro.

More than that, he found evidence of increasing Communist influence among the impoverished Latins covering a continent that the U.S. for many decades considered part of its own back yard.

It will take more than the $500,000,000 program, says Stevenson, to overcome the poverty, social dissatisfaction and the lack of education that continue to promote and foment revolution.

Perhaps one part of the answer, he suggests, may lie in commodity stabilization agreements. An increase of just one-half cent a pound in the price of coffee may have more economic benefit than all the dollar loans the United States would be able to make under the $500,000,000 program, he said.

Even so, it will take years—perhaps as much as a decade—before the Latins can hope to overcome economic despair at home.

Meanwhile relations between the Latin Americans and the United States may grow worse. A point is the continuing wide gulf in views on the Cuban issue.

Despite all that Kennedy has said about Castro representing a Red dagger at the heart of the entire continent, Latin Americans view the Cuban problem as mainly a fight between Castro and the American government, Stevenson found.

Moreover they don't like American attempts to intervene in Latin domestic politics. They've said as much in the past. Apparently they said it with even more vocal force in Stevenson's presence.

Back in 1947 the United States signed the Rio pact on non-intervention in Latin affairs, except through collective agreement of the Latin countries. Stevenson was told the United States should stick to this agreement.

Rebels Surrender

Betancourt Beats Revolt by Army

CARACAS (AP)—A 250-man army garrison revolted briefly Monday at the Venezuelan port of Barcelona and 40 persons were reported killed. Armed civilians rose to the defence of President Romulo Betancourt.

The government said a show of force by a squadron of Canberra jet bombers over Barcelona barracks and a threat of annihilation by loyal troops and navy men contributed to the rebel's surrender.

Betancourt, whose moderate administration has been troubled by plots and demonstrations from both left and right in recent months, said the uprising lasted only four-and-one-half hours.

A radio report said all the rebel leaders were captured. The interior ministry identified them as junior officers of the garrison plus two ex-majors, disarmed from the army for previous conspiracies.

French Farmers Block Rail Lines

PARIS (UPI)—Thousands of French farmers and peasants armed with pitchforks burned Premier Michel Debre in effigy again yesterday and blocked roads and rail lines across France in angry protests against slumping farm prices.

Until yesterday, the "farmers' rebellion" had been confined mostly to Brittany. The farmers there have been staging demonstrations for more than a week, blaming the government's agricultural policies for the drop in potato and vegetable markets.

The farmers of Brittany were joined yesterday by their fellows in the north and south of France, from Lille in the industrial northeast to Grenoble in the Alpine foothills of the southeast.

At Grenoble, thousands of shouting farmers burned an effigy of the French premier and blocked roads and rail ways with tractors and other farm vehicles. Farmers in southwest France burned Debre in effigy Saturday.

In nearby towns, farmers staged mass demonstrations, waving pitchforks and shouting: "Solidarity with the peasants of Brittany" and "farmers to the Bastille."

There were fears the farmers might stage a mass nationwide "strike" if the government did not take immediate steps.

Debre had appealed to the nation's farmers to remain calm in a nationwide radio address and promised the government would look into the situation.

U.S. Law Invoked

Kennedy Acts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy reluctantly invoked the Taft-Hartley law yesterday as the first step toward forcing 75,000 striking seamen to return to work for an 80-day cooling off period.

Ruling that the 11-day-old maritime strike is imperiling the nation's health and safety, Kennedy appointed a three-man fact-finding board to investigate the dispute and report back to him by Friday.

Once he gets the report, the chief executive was expected to ask Attorney-General Robert Kennedy to seek a federal court injunction forcing the strikers back to work. A settlement would be sought during the cooling off period.

Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg said Kennedy had no choice but to make the "distasteful decision."

Letters to the Editor

Bill of Rights

As the excellent editorial in the Colonist points out, Canada's Bill of Rights is "hardly soul-stirring . . . it concerns solely the matters under federal jurisdiction, and provincial statutes under present circumstances could abridge its provisions."

A case in point is the "community planning" part of the Municipal Act, and the authoritarian powers conferred on municipal councils. The Bill of Rights recognizes "the right of the individual to . . . enjoyment of property." But in this same issue of the Colonist is an item that informs us that the Victoria city council has approved the rezoning of two lots on Fort Street so that a funeral parlor proprietor can move his establishment to this area which has been zoned for residential use for nearly 35 years.

I understand that 85 per cent of property-owners adjacent to the proposed new site for the funeral parlor are opposed to the rezoning. In spite of the Bill of Rights these residents are now deprived of their "right to the enjoyment of property," as they do not wish to live in close proximity to a funeral parlor. . . .

One and Only

An article in your issue of May 2 may have given the misleading impression that there is some connection between Madame Tussaud's Ltd. and the wax museum in Victoria. We would therefore like to give you the following brief historical background, not only as a matter of general interest, but to correct any possible misunderstanding that may have arisen.

In 1802, after the French Revolution, Madame Tussaud brought her famous collection of models to England and, opening at the old Lyceum Theatre in the Strand, quickly achieved notable success. From 1804 to 1811 she toured Scotland and Ireland and, then returning to England she visited every town of importance with success until in 1835 she decided to establish a permanent home in Baker Street, London.

Her exhibition, which eventually became the sole property of this company, remained there for nearly 50 years before removing to its present location in Marylebone Road, in 1884.

As ever-increasing crowds flocked to see Madame Tussaud's, the name came to mean the highest standard of portraiture in wax. . . .

The following notice appears as a foreword to our official guide:

"There is only one Madame Tussaud's. Madame Tussaud's wishes it to be known that the models created by its artists can only be seen at its exhibition in the Marylebone Road, London, England. Madame Tussaud's Limited has no connection with other waxworks or exhibitions in this country or overseas and does not make models for display outside the confines of its own premises."

Rejected Gift

It is tragic to think that 13 people, through three Saanich councillors can sabotage such a worthwhile project as the beautification of Douglas Street, the entrance to a tourist paradise.

Apparently these people dread the removal of parking from their front doors. These days where can anyone park in front of the place where he wishes to do business? Parking has become an accepted inconvenience in most places but on Douglas Street, in Saanich, there are more numerous side streets than there are cars to fill them for parking. Where could parking be more convenient?

These people lose sight of the fact that parking will have to be prohibited within a couple of years due to heavy traffic flow. Then they will have no parking and no beautification to draw trade but will have had the satisfaction of demonstrating their complete lack of public spirit and interest in the welfare of the area as a whole.

Councillors Casey, Passmore and Todd were elected by a majority to serve the best interests of the community, not a few.

This is not a local improvement for which a limited area must pay and which it can refuse by petition. It is an outright gift to all the people of Greater Victoria and will encourage business in every location.

By their action these councillors will long be remembered for their lack of wisdom, initiative and courage and their failure to recognize the full extent of their responsibilities toward their fellow citizens.

Addling the Egg

Retention of surplus hydro-electric power in B.C. could not only impoverish—but also jettison developments now past the inertia stage and already accelerating towards that success in British Columbia's economic future of which we already have proof.

Federal reluctance to permit export of hydro-electric power should not extend beyond the boundaries which ensure a continuing security stock of the commodity ourselves, and an upheld value within reason, on the export market. Most of all the assurance to us of eventual reduction in cost of power in our own province, should be of major priority.

Our famous wheat has at last begun to move after costing and depriving Canadians thousands of dollars in non-profitable storage. To hold a needed potential commodity is justified only if it is a weapon capable of boomeranging. Export of hydro-electric power could produce immense good in terms of amity and reciprocal benefits. The long view must of course take into consideration future possibilities versus repercussions. Even a golden egg can addle if a goose sits on it too long unhatched!

'Outsider' Joins Naden School

The army announced yesterday that Capt. James Gayfer, director of the Canadian Guards Band since 1954, will become the first "outsider" to assume duties as instructor at the RCN school of music at HMCS Naden. His duties will start early in August.

In 1960, the stainless steel industry in the United Kingdom produced 220,000 tons, compared with 44,300 in 1945.

described Monday as a farce by the company's nominee.

E. B. Clark, board representative for Northland Navigation Co. Ltd., said this in his minority statement.

Chairman W. E. Philpott and union nominee S. B. Whitelock recommended pay increases of $5 a month for crew members effective Sept. 1, 1960, $8 more effective last June 15 and $10.50 next Jan. 1.

"It would appear this is nothing more than a report of the union nominee with the reluctant signature of the chairman attached for appearances only," Mr. Clark said.

"If this is a fair example of the accomplishments of a conciliation board, it is the writer's opinion, and not his alone, this farce should be discontinued and the cost put to better use."

Young Liberals Approve Alliance With New Party

MILFORD BAY, Ont. (CP)—A resolution apparently looking for an alliance or merger between the Liberal party and the New Party was passed at the annual convention of the Ontario Young Liberals Association.

The resolution, approved at a lightly-attended evening session while most delegates were at executive meetings or a dance, drew violent opposition from president Royce Frith of the province's senior Liberal association.

"RETURN TO US"

After a meeting with party officials Harry Malcolmson of Toronto, the sponsor, said amalgamation wasn't what he had in mind.

"The idea is that New Party members should return to us," he said. "We should be more aware of the opportunity to bring into the Liberal party a large body of presently uncommitted anti-government opinion."

PARTY SPLIT

The resolution didn't name the New Party or speak specifically of a merger. It said the party "of essentially Liberal opinion" now is split between two groups to the advantage of the Progressive Conservatives.

But the comments of Mr. Malcolmson and Mr. Frith while the resolution was under discussion indicated a merger was the central theme.

RESOLUTION PASSED

"Unless we do something before the next election the Diefenbaker government may be returned to power," said Mr. Malcolmson, 28-year-old president of the Toronto and Yorks Young Liberal Association.

"We have to come to terms with the New Party." The resolution passed 10 to 8 with five abstentions. Despite many expressions of disagreement from the absentees, no later move was made to rescind it.

HOW COULD IT HAPPEN TO RACHEL CADE?

NORMAN WELLS, N.W.T. (CP)—The steel-hulled Radium Prince, an old flat-bottomed diesel tug, tied up here Sunday night after a full day. For a while she was queen of the river. The blue-and-gold vice-regal standard flew at her bridge.

The barge she was pushing contained a full-rigged pavilion tent where the governor-general of Canada and his party lounged. And to complete her day, she stopped for persons drifting helplessly in a disabled outboard runabout.

Capt. Mike Arnfinson, a veteran of 29 years on the Bear River, eased the craft into the stream for the trip back downriver to Norman Wells.

Madame Vanier was in a romantic mood as she and the governor-general posed for photographers on the fore-deck.

"What will we call it? Cleopatra?" the governor-general asked.

Madame Vanier held out an arm toward her husband and said:

"I want to be on a Persian carpet and here's Antony."

As the trip wore on she settled for less, reclining on a navy blue RCMP parka.

There was only one stop, when the Radium Prince pulled into the old trading post of Fort Norman.

There the governor-general stepped ashore through the ranks of two boy scouts and seven wolf cubs forming a guard of honor.

The party saw a two-room school, then met a party of Inuit. Then rain began to fall heavily but the tour, after a short halt in the chief's house, went on to mass and tea afterward.

The Prince was about two hours out when a small motorboat, her engine dead, was seen near shore. Three men were paddling and a woman was waving a white scarf. The Prince took the boat in tow and took the four aboard.

They beached the craft but, when they sighted the scrubbed, shining Radium Prince, they paddled out to stop her.

"This was not planned, believe me," said Mrs. Adolf Muenzer, one of the rescued, as she stepped aboard. Madame Vanier came back to the tug to speak with the four.

Grits' Greeting Cards Seen by CCF Veteran

OTTAWA (CP)—A cabinet minister and a veteran CCF MP poked fun at the Liberals in the Commons Monday over the move by the Ontario Young Liberals Association in urging that efforts be made to seek an alliance with the CCF-New Party.

This could mean that thousands of invitation and greeting cards may be sent to members of the Young Liberal Association, said H. W. Herdridge (CCF—Kootenay West). Could Postmaster-General William Hamilton say whether these cards should be sent by first, second, third or fourth-class mail?

Mr. Hamilton replied that in view of some of the actions by the Liberal Opposition, any invitation to join the socialist party would be redundant at present.

RCMP Arrest Ex-MP

OTTAWA (CP) — Raymond Brunneau, former Liberal member of Parliament for Glengarry Prescott, was arrested Monday on charges of bribery and obtaining $10,000 by false pretences while he was an MP.

The RCMP arrested Brunneau, 44, at his home in Hawkesbury, Ontario, 60 miles east of the capital, and brought him here to be charged.

$10,000 BRIBE

A short time later the Cornwall RCMP detachment arrested Abe Bergeron, a service station operator, and charged him with giving a $10,000 bribe to Brunneau to arrange a government property purchase and a federal government job.

Both men were booked, but later freed on $500 cash bail each.

1966 SALE

Inspector C. W. Speers of the RCMP said the charges involve the 1966 sale of a Hawkesbury property on which a new post office later was built and a job which Bergeron obtained with the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority.

Bergeron was part owner of a garage on the main street of Hawkesbury which the federal government purchased for a post office site, paying $48,000. Construction of a $170,000 post office building was started in 1958 and completed after the Conservative government took office in 1957.

FIRST ELECTED

Brunneau was first elected in Prescott riding in 1949 and re-elected in 1953 when the riding was revised and the name changed to Glengarry-Prescott. He lost to Conservative Onie Villeneuve in the 1957 and 1958 general elections.

Meanwhile the federal justice department has received and is making a "careful study" of the transcript of evidence before a Quebec royal commission which alleged that a former Conservative cabinet minister received "kickbacks" on federal and provincial grants to a Montreal hospital.

UNITED NATIONS: Andrew Cordier, 60, executive assistant to UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, was talked out of retiring. He was named undersecretary in charge of General Assembly affairs; his old job goes to C. V. Narasimham, an Indian.

New Proposal Would Restrict Commons' Wide Wartime Power

OTTAWA (CP)—A proposal to ease the sweeping powers of the War Measures Act by prohibiting deportation of Canadian citizens or removal of citizenship status was presented Monday by Justice Minister Fulton.

This proposal, and others were in a draft bill placed before a special Commons committee charged with reconciling, as far as possible, the powers in the War Measures Act with the provisions of the Bill of Rights.

Mr. Fulton said the draft legislation constituted "a practical reconciliation" between the personal protections in the Bill of Rights and the "tremendous powers" a government could assume by invoking the War Measures Act.

But Judy LaMarsh (L-Niagara Falls) said she doesn't think the two measures can be reconciled.

"I think we're wasting our time trying to do it," said Miss LaMarsh, a lawyer.

Italy has 17,803 hotels registered in 1961, compared with 16,411 last year.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—A shakeup in the executive of the Newfoundland Brotherhood of Woodworkers Ind. has led to speculation that the province's 15,000 loggers soon will have another union.

Stirling Thomas' resignation Monday as president was followed by an NBWW executive meeting at Grand Falls that named his replacement, Lloyd Goudie, former first vice-president.

Mr. Thomas said in a statement he is resigning to enable the loggers "to join up with that great organized body which has nearly 1,000,000 members." In an interview he said the reference was to the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America CLC.

Wheat Pours Out

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian wheat exports by July 31

probably will exceed 340,000,000 bushels, chief commissioner W. C. McNamara of the Canadian wheat board said Monday.

He defended the recent price increase of wheat for export or domestic use as only fair to the western producer who "has had to absorb the loss resulting from lower wheat prices during the last several years when the Canadian dollar commanded a premium over the American dollar."

PRICE INCREASE

The price increase in the wake of the depreciation of the Canadian dollar, resulting after the federal budget June 20, has prompted a price increase for bread.

Mr. McNamara was continuing testimony before the Commons agriculture committee. He also said a poor crop this year may leave Canada short of some grades of wheat for export.

He noted that chief commissioner George McConnell of the board of grain commissioners told the committee last week that wheat exports might total 340,000,000 by the end of the current crop year July 31. Mr. McNamara said he felt he could go beyond that—but did not name a figure. He said exports have passed the official target of 300,000,000 bushels now.

Prosperity Hinges On Export

REGINA (CP) — A federal government economist, Dr. F. J. Chambers of Ottawa, said Monday the prosperity of Prairie agriculture will depend for many years on larger foreign markets for wheat and coarse grains.

Dr. Chambers said domestic economy will not significantly affect Prairie agriculture.

He was speaking at the Canadian Agriculture Economists' Society meeting, part of the National Agriculture Institute of Canada convention.

MORE THAN 1,100 . . . More than 1,100 persons registered for the three-day convention. The highest previous registration for the national convention was in 1953 at Saskatoon.

Dr. Chambers said the produce of Canadian agriculture, with the exception of wheat and other grains, does not command a significant export market.

"The livestock, dairying, fruit and vegetable sectors of the industry are primarily dependent on the domestic market."

Robbers Hunted By Air

SIMCOE, Ont. (UPI) — An armed supermarket manager searched from the air for two hold-up artists who robbed a bank at nearby St. Williams, yesterday.

Gordon Bennet saw the men leave the bank from the window of his store. He tried to reach police and couldn't. So he took off after them in a friend's light plane. Police set up road blocks in the area.

Bread Boost Small?

OTTAWA (CP) — The five-cent-a-bushel increase in the price of wheat could account for only another .08 cents on the price of a loaf of bread, the Commons agriculture committee was told Monday night by assistant commissioner William Riddle of the Canadian wheat board.

Second Storm Nears Japan

TOKYO (UPI) — A new tropical storm swept toward Western Japan today in the wake of a downpour that left 36 persons dead and 22 missing.

The storm was expected to approach the coastal sea of Shikoku Island and Kii Peninsula tonight. Shikoku was one of the areas hardest hit by the rain storm, heaviest of the season, that has continued since Saturday.

Trees Back in Favor

By M. V. CHESNUT, FERN

I have noticed over the past two or three years a spirit of concern over their shade trees developing among the home owners of Victoria. This is a good thing and I am glad to see the trees being valued at their true worth, for at one time a man would just as soon cut down a tree as split.

It was quite the thing to bulldoze all the trees off a property, to make building operations easier; nowadays the architect sites the house to take full advantage of the precious trees.

This new appreciation of trees shows up as a rash of letters asking for help whenever bugs, caterpillars, galls or leaf spots appear. It is right and proper to be concerned over the health of your trees, but actually, I don't think we need worry much about the full-grown, adult specimens. As I mentioned in an earlier article, any tree which has survived 30 or 40 summers and winters is an old hand at shrugging off pests and diseases and peculiarities of the weather—it has experienced them all and has survived.

Our native parasites will very seldom kill an adult tree unless it is already senile—if they did, they themselves would perish for lack of a host. Foreign pests and diseases can be dangerous, as witness Dutch elm disease and chestnut blight, but our trees have over the centuries developed a resistance to our own run-of-the-mill parasites.

This thought came to me the other day as I was having a tooth filled and, while it isn't easy to talk with your mouth full of rubber sheets and probes and drills, I managed to get the question out to my dentist.

"Look here," I asked. "You spend all day every day peering at close range into people's mouths. You are breathed on, coughed on, sneezed upon constantly. Why aren't you home in bed with flu or pneumonia?"

He grinned at me as he pushed the drill a little deeper into the cavity. "I guess we develop a resistance," he answered. "I suppose at the start we get so many mild doses of infection that we develop a full complement of antibodies to the various respiratory diseases." I must be the same way with trees and other long-lived plants.

In any case, there isn't much you can do for a big tree. Spraying for pests isn't practicable, for you can't begin to reach the top of the tree with ordinary home gardener's equipment. Our trees also must suffer in our summer droughts, but here again, watering is an impossible task—the important root tips are probably in someone else's garden anyway and the amount of water required by a full-grown tree is fantastic.

Unbelievable as it may seem, more water is evaporated over a square mile of forest trees than over a square mile of ocean!

Small trees and young trees can and should be watered by dry spells, though, and there seems to be some misunderstanding just how and where the water should be applied.

"It can't be lack of water," some of my correspondents write. "We have a circle cut in the grass around the trunk and my husband lets the hose trickle there for an hour at a time." He may as well have poured the water into Esquimalt Lagoon.

If you are caught in a rainstorm, you know very well that you can keep fairly dry by taking shelter under a tree—the leaves act as an umbrella, keeping the rain off. Now, nature isn't such a dumb-bunny as to put the tree's water-seeking roots under an umbrella—she puts them in the drip area, under the branch tips and beyond. There are no water-absorbing roots right up close to the trunk.

The trick in watering trees grows in grass is to punch a circle of holes in the sod with a crowbar, just under the outermost branch tips, making them 1 1/2 feet deep and the same distance apart. Fill these with water as often as you can manage during a droughty period and, if you want to add a little soluble fertilizer to the water, so much the better.

Ex-Yale Man Pulls Poor Oar

Yale's Class of '36 left college in the middle of a perfectly awful depression, said the news story, and had done marvelously well by itself. Average income: $50,000. Good heavens! Total savings, $82,770,000. Jovel! (One Yale '36 reported his savings at $14,000,000.)

As a member of the Yale class of '36, all I can say is that the news story left me proud but depressed. I'm afraid I haven't been pulling my oar. There's hardly anywhere along the line that I don't dip well below the average. Total savings of $82,000,000, divided by 552 members of my class, comes to... Great balls of fire! $120,000! Last time I looked at my own savings account it was—well, I think my total assets added up to minus a couple of thou. A man hates to pull the class average down. If they hadn't had me in there as a dead weight, heaven knows where the class might have soared.

All the way down the line, I'm in there dragging down the statistics. Each member of the class owns 1.5, or almost two cars. Well, I don't own any car and without me the class might have had an even two-car outfit. On the average each has one servant and each reads 26 books a year. Well, I flunk out on the servant category but I pull the average up a bit on the books. I read a hell of a lot of books.

Actually, I'm happy to see Yale striking back. It hasn't been a good year for Yale. Harvard has that Man in the White House. Him and his whole class practically. The Harvards have been running off with the headlines.

This little news story sounded as if Yale wanted it known that the reason it didn't have a man in the White House is that its graduates didn't run for office much. Too busy making money.

Actually, the class of '36 has done awfully well financially. But let's face it, it started out awfully rich. One of my classmates was Peter Grace, who is president of W. R. Grace & Co. which includes Grace Lines. Two days after the story broke, another classmate, William Rand, was named president of the United States Lines. The class is doing all right in shipping.

In publishing there is Bill Block of the Pittsburgh Post Gazette. Among the writers John Hersey, Stewart Alsop, and Brendan Gill. Among the tycoons the most unexpected was Neilsen "Wahbone" Harris who invented Toni Home Permanent and sold out for $22,000,000.

Will the Class of '61 do as well? One hurdle the Class of '61 has already mounted was getting into Yale in the first place. It was never exactly easy. But then I can't pretend that it was anywhere near as difficult to get into the Class of '36 as it was to get into the Class of '61 or '62. It's almost easier to get into the U.S. Senate.

The great hurdle then was not getting into Yale but getting a job after you got out. We expected nothing but the worst and consequently all surprises were agreeable ones.

Hollywood Today

Army Reprieve for Ricky

HOLLYWOOD (NANA)—The very successful 21-year-old Ricky Nelson has an 18-month extension before Uncle Sam gets him for two years in the army. I talked with Ricky at Universal-International where he was lunching with his father. Ozzie is currently directing Ricky in a special General Electric show. The Nelsons are going into the 11th year of "Ozzie and Harriet." Ricky is riding high with his "Traveling Man." No. 1 on the hit-record parade, and in great demand for movies in addition to his TV career. Seventy-ish Walter Pidgeon, in a fine state of health, was striding along a U-I street, slim, energetic and handsome. Pidgeon was on the lot for a TV assignment in "Checkmate," after which, he told me, "I'm off to Quebec to work for Walt Disney in 'Big Red.'" I swear this man gets younger every year.

Jane Fonda was sent the script of the musical movie version of "State Fair," and prereading it, said, "I don't think so." She may change her mind after perusal. Jeanne Crain played the role originally.

Their friends are making bets that Natalie Wood and estranged mate R. J. Wagner will reconcile. Hope so.

Faith Domergue, whom swimming pool is very secluded, took a near-nude sunbath the other hot day. "I fell asleep," she informed me, "and I have first-degree burns all over the top of my body."

The first completely airborne movie unit will be assembled by Basil Levy for his multi-million-dollar version of "Marco Polo." Levy, who used to produce Brigitte Bardot films, is used to doing the impossible, and will fly everything—cast, crew, equipment, even housing units—along the route from Asia to Europe followed by Polo.

Whatever happened to Ava Gardner? Nothing heard about Ava since she was in the U.S. several months ago, and it has been two years since she made a movie. She said she wanted to retire, and obviously meant what she said.

Packers Bilk Housewives

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The butcher who cheated grandmother by weighing his thumb with the steak was a relatively straightforward crook.

Today's housewives, who buy the family's food neatly "pre-packaged," sometimes are being bilked in much more devious ways.

Grandmother had a sporting chance of catching the butcher at his fraud if she kept a sharp eye on the scales. But Mrs. Consumer of 1961 would need a magnifying glass, a slide rule and a portable X-ray machine to guard herself against skullduggery.

"Deceptive packaging" is the official term for a whole gamut of slick tricks which are being widely used today—even by supposedly reputable manufacturers and packers—to gull the housewife into thinking she's getting more than she is for her money.

The U.S. Food & Drug Administration is alarmed about the rapid spread of deceptive packaging, and is trying to mount a national crackdown against it.

A Senate subcommittee will begin hearings Wednesday to determine if new legislation is needed to protect consumers.

Crypt-A-Crossword

Sunday's Answer

It appears that at least five different gimmicks are being used to deceive, mislead and confuse the harried housewife.

No. 1 is simple short-weight. Today everything is "pre-packed" and some packers have succumbed to the temptation to peddle "pound" packages that contain substantially less than 16 ounces.

No. 2 is known as "short-fill." The package is a lot bigger than it needs to be, and appears to contain far more than it does.

No. 3 is reducing the quantity of merchandise contained in a package without changing the size of the package. This is a way of raising prices on the shopper without letting her know it.

No. 4 is the use of odd and unfamiliar quantities to prevent price comparisons. In many cases checked by investigators, the "large economy size" of various products actually proved to be more expensive, ounce for ounce, than the smaller "regular" size.

No. 5 is the use of extravagant adjectives rather than standard terminology to denote size and quantity.

LOCAL FINANCE COMPANY WANTS SAMPLES BACK

Victoria—(CF) The manager of Custom Finance, 1012 Douglas Street, states he will pay $10.00 each for some of the free sample dollars they gave away last week. The serial numbers listed on some of the sample dollars will be printed in the personal column of the newspapers starting today. Even though you did not get a sample dollar, you can still be a winner as more lucky dollars are put in circulation. Anyone finding they have one of the lucky dollars is to bring it to Custom Finance at 1012 Douglas Street and they will receive $10.00 for it.

Rats Defeat Cat Brigade

TOKYO (Reuters). — A task force of 432 cats sent to quell a rat plague on Hiburijama, an inlet off the southwestern coast of Japan, has had little success and the islanders Monday called for reinforcements.

The cats were collected after the island authorities made an appeal for "an army of 40,000 cats" to deal with the rat plague.

Congo About-Face

Tshombe Hits Men He Hailed

ELISABETHVILLE (UPI) — Katanga President Moise Tshombe, in an apparent about-face, last night darkened the Congolese political scene with a series of bitter charges against the Leopoldville leaders he praised so highly two days ago.

In an interview, he said the United Nations is unable to control The Congo, the Leopoldville government is too divided to do the job and that "I am pessimistic about the future of The Congo."

"WELL PLANNED"

Tshombe indicated he might not send a Katangese delegation to a Congolese Parliament session after all and scoffed at a statement by Premier Joseph Ileo that he had agreed to unify his secessionist province with the rest of The Congo.

He made these other points in his interview, the first granted since he was freed from captivity in Leopoldville.

His arrest nearly two months ago "was well planned in advance" by such men as Central Congolese Premier Joseph Ileo and Foreign Minister Justic Bomboko.

He has the greatest distrust of and dislike for most of the Leopoldville officials. The exception was Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, the army strongman he credits with releasing him. When Tshombe left Leopoldville Saturday he was praising its leaders and promising to submerge his dreams of Katangese independence and work for Congolese unity.

'Popes' Ordered—He Had to Obey

I Felt as Free as Pilate, Eichmann Testifies

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Adolf Eichmann told an Israeli court Monday he felt no more guilt for the extermination of 6,000,000 Jews than did Pontius Pilate for the crucifixion of Jesus Christ.

"I felt inside me a sort of Pilate's satisfaction, because I felt free of all guilt," he testified.

GAVE CHOICE

Pontius Pilate, Roman governor of Judea, gave to the people the choice of whether Christ or a bandit named Barabbas should be set free. The mob called for the freedom of Barabbas and the crucifixion of Christ and Pilate delivered him over, washing his hands before them.

Eichmann admitted he had signed orders from Nazi police boss Heinrich Himmler and the orders were sent down to him through channels.

"The orders came from Himmler," he insisted.

During questioning by defense counsel Dr. Robert Servatius on the Wannsee conference in Berlin Jan. 20, 1942, which decided on the deaths of all European Jews as the "final solution" to the "Jewish problem," he said:

"The prominent of the Reich spoke at the Wannsee conference. The popes were ordering and I had to obey." It was then he said he felt the "Pilate's satisfaction" which stayed with him.

Eichmann said that after Wannsee he never failed to back up his bosses on "even the smallest matter."

"I was neither responsible for the sterilization nor responsible for control over concentration camps inmates," he contended. All he did was draw up railway timetables for the trains.

Reds See Solution On Laos

GENEVA (AP) — Communist China, most determined of the Communist nations in its criticism of the West at the international conference on Laos, eased up Monday and predicted an early solution to the country's political problems.

'ACCEPTABLE TO ALL'

"Our conference has all the conditions for reaching an international agreement on the peaceful settlement of the Lao-tian question acceptable to all," said Foreign Minister Chen Yi, Peking's chief delegate.

This surprise statement came as Western delegates talked of slowing to three sessions a week in hopes of cutting the torrent of charges from both sides until the Lao-tian leaders come up with their suggestions.

'NOT DIFFICULT'

Western delegates observed, however, that Chen's speech still stuck to basic Communist proposals and rejected French and U.S. plans for a settlement and international agreements to guarantee it.

Chen said it shouldn't be difficult to settle the knottiest issue at the conference — the future powers and duties of the International Control Commission composed of Canada, India and Poland.

Freedom Rider Claims Brutality

NEW YORK (AP)—A teen-aged "Freedom Rider," imprisoned for three weeks in Mississippi, said Monday "terribly brutal treatment" was inflicted on some anti-segregation demonstrators in jail.

Kenneth Shilman, 18, of Oceanside, N.Y., said "cattle shockers" and "wrist-breakers" were used on some of them.

Veteran Of CPR Dies at 72

James Reid, 72, a retired chief engineer with B.C. Coast Steamships, died Sunday in a Victoria hospital.

Born in Paisley, Scotland, he lived in B.C. for more than 40 years.

Mr. Reid entered the CPR service in 1921 as third engineer on the Ss Montague and sailed on the Empress of Australia before transferring to the BCCSS. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge.

The widow, Agnes, is at home, 1117 Faithful.

Quiet Probe In Cat Issue

Victoria's cat controversy was quietly referred to city solicitor T. P. O'Grady and chief sanitary inspector Elwood Gropp yesterday.

Action was taken by city health committee in an attempt to find out if present by-laws cover complaints of too many cats in a Duchess Street home.

The report will include suggestions of possible new legislation if existing by-laws are not sufficient.

Esquimalt BCE Near Pact

Esquimalt council and the B.C. Electric seem to be resolving long-standing differences with a compromise scheme on bus service routes and timetables.

Council last night accepted the BCE's latest proposal on a "trial basis," providing the firm is willing to allow a transfer point at Esquimalt Road and Admirals Road.

LOOP CIRCUIT
The BCE proposal grants a loop circuit, sought by council, during non-rush hours such as evenings, Sundays and holidays. Rush hour schedules will remain as they are now.

The non-rush hour plan calls for a 20-minute service by three buses, two running along Esquimalt Road between Dockyard and the city and the third making a continuous loop along Head, Colville, Admirals and Munro back to Head.

SECOND POINT
Transfer point was designed at Head and Esquimalt, but council requested a second transfer point at Admirals and Esquimalt.

"It looks to me like this is a good deal for the municipality," said the reeve, who has fought a long battle for loop service in Esquimalt.

Dead Sailor's Gear Reported 'Perfect'

The navy said yesterday the underwater breathing apparatus used by a seaman at the time of his death by drowning was in "perfect" working condition.

Authorities ordered test of the equipment following death of Lt. Ralph Collins June 19 while swimming near HMCS Sumasville during a recreational period. The accident occurred near North Pender Island.

A spokesman for RCN Pacific Command said yesterday thorough testing of the underwater breathing apparatus showed "beyond doubt" that the equipment was in working order at the time of the accident.

Meanwhile, an official board of inquiry is studying reports on the seaman's death and has received finding by a civilian coroner's jury of death by drowning.

Results of the naval inquiry are not expected to be made known until its report is made to Ottawa, possibly in several weeks, a spokesman indicated.

While he stressed his was only one of five timber companies involved in the experiment, he said he was in favor of an immediate start on converting one of the remaining three planes.

"Since the job of conversion requires several months, I feel work should start without delay," he said, "I feel the experiment has already proven this method of fighting fire thing other than structural deficiency in the renovated aircraft.

An RCMP officer who led the ground investigating party in to the crash scene west of Parksville said the impact had literally smashed the aircraft to pieces.

Most of the wreckage was heaped within an area of 75 by 30 feet. One body lay outside the aircraft but the other three were jammed in the cockpit.

An inquest, convened Saturday afternoon, was advised to be one of tremendous value.

Saanich Takes Second Look Orders New Douglas Plan

Scurrah Wants Offstreet Survey

Saanich council last night ordered preparation of a revised plan for development of Douglas Street north of the city boundary as a six-lane highway with boulevards where possible without reducing the right-of-way.

Action followed the decision yesterday by the Capital Improvement District Commission to ask Victoria and Saanich to take a second look at the CIDC plan to beautify the Douglas Street entrance to the city and ban curbside parking.

Municipal engineer Neville Life was instructed to have the revised plan for the Saanich section of the project ready for council July 10.

Meanwhile, Mayor Percy Scurrah ordered a detailed survey of the city section of Douglas, north of the Fountain Circle, in the wake of an unofficial survey which claims 19 of 28 merchants opposed to the parking ban have their own offstreet parking facilities.

posals and members of both councils said a member of the CIDC had assured them all merchants were in favor of the parking ban.

J. Everett Brown, chairman of the CIDC, said last night no CIDC member had been authorized to speak to the merchants and suggested any approach was made on a private basis.

CLAUDE HARRISON ... starting plan

Tunnels Urged Under Douglas!

Claude Harrison, former mayor of Victoria, jumped into the Douglas Street beautification controversy yesterday with a startling plan which includes tunnels under Douglas Street for cross traffic.

In a letter to Mayor Percy Scurrah and city aldermen, Mr. Harrison called for:

- No parking along Douglas Street.
- Offstreet parking provided by lanes at the rear of premises facing Douglas Street, city-owned parking lots where possible and legislation to force provision of "basement" parking when new buildings are constructed along Douglas.
- Utilization of natural ravines for underpasses to carry traffic under Douglas rather than impede the north-south flow.
- Construction of a bridge across Rock Bay to connect Store Street with Rock Bay Avenue.
- Redesigning of the Fountain Circle, using traffic lights if necessary for traffic control.

Mr. Harrison, a city lawyer, said the fountain in the Fountain Circle at one time had several beautifully-designed fountains included in it.

He asked if they could be replaced to improve the fountain.

The letter will go before the July 13 meeting of city council, when the question of improving the Douglas Street entrance to Victoria will be under discussion.

Six Hats in the Ring For Saanich Seat

Now today is the deadline for nominations for a July 8 Saanich by-election called to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Coun. Almasse Worthington.

Six candidates so far are Robert Ostler, 3339 Doncaster; Arnold Coey, 120 Homer; Charles Parker, 583 Baker; Robert Chard, 3714 Hobbs; G. Stanley Eden, 3115 Wascana; Lionel Speller, 3416 Bethune.

Cigaret Machine Leads List of Weekend Loot

Burglars struck at several places in Victoria during the weekend but picked up loot at only three.

Thieves who broke into the home of D. K. Guest, 2514 Empire, took about $80 in cash and a radio and leather case, valued at $100.

Ambitious burglars who entered the Shell Tyre Service Station, Esquimalt and Tyee Roads, made off with an entire cigarette vending machine.

An hour later, a report from CNR officials led police to the broken machine, on the bank between the service station and the railway.

There were still a few packages of cigarettes and 95 cents in coins in the machine. Other thieves struck the E. Lipsett Fishing Supplies, 508 Bastion. Only article missing was an electric hand drill, valued at about $11.

Anger Flares Against E & N

Esquimalt council will ask the Board of Transport Commissioners to force the E & N Railway to reduce speed of its trains at the Admirals Road crossing until signal lights can be installed there.

Decision to approach the board came after an angry municipal engineer, John Graeme, told council he received no satisfaction from an E & N official on the question of reduced speeds at the five-way intersection.

Council had sought the railway's opinion on the advisability of a "slow order" at the crossing, and had received a letter from D. C. Hartley, the railway's superintendent, suggesting there would be less danger if trains don't go slow, charged Mr. Graeme.

"We got a letter back saying people pay more attention if trains go faster—they also die faster if they get hit, as I see it," said the engineer.

He said it was "a horrible thought" how fast the Dayliner coach goes through the intersection.

Mr. Hartley's letter said in part: "We are not prepared to agree to a slow order on trains even for a temporary period as this has not been considered necessary in the past."

"Our experience is that the slower trains go the greater the disregard by the public."

Moss Problem

Hillside Blazes Away Near B.C.'s Mansion

Victoria firemen battled for four hours yesterday to kill a grass and brush fire on the densely-grown southern slope of Government House grounds.

Cause of the fire, reported at 10:20 a.m., was not determined.

STOOD WATCH
Pumps from the main and James Bay firehalls poured water for hours on the blazing hillside. Several men stood watch after the trucks had gone, for fear of a flare-up in the dry grass and brush.

"It's the moss that's a problem in fires like this," said Fire Chief James Baylis. "You have to drench every spark or you're back in four hours doing it all over again."

From 5 p.m. until about 11 p.m. Sunday, firemen of Saanich and Oak Bay combined forces to fight a similar stubborn blaze on the north slope of Mount Tolmie.

Beacon Hill at the park lived up to its name Sunday night when a fire started in the brush near the flagpole attracted a number of spectators. The blaze was snuffed out by firemen within an hour.

BURNED OFF
"In some respects," said an official, "these fires are a help. They burn off dry matter that should be burned off anyway and they do it before the trees are dry enough to catch."

All fire departments had a number of similar grass fires during the weekend, but they were small in extent.

Beaver Lake Bid

Saanich Seeks Lease For Municipal Links

Strong support for a municipally-operated nine-hole golf course at Beaver Lake was registered at last night's Saanich council meeting.

As a first step towards this avowed aim, council last night agreed to approach the city with a view to obtaining a long-term lease on 50 acres of property near the lake.

SCHEME OPPOSED

Councillors were opposed to the scheme, placed before the city parks committee by well-known golfer John D. Carlow, for private development of the course. Mr. Carlow said he would be prepared to pay the city $4,000 annually for a 30 to 40-year lease on the city-owned property.

'NO CONTROLS'

Coun. Stanley Murphy protested that if a private operator was allowed to develop the course it would become in effect a "park-recreation" area within Saanich boundaries over which the municipality could exercise virtually no control.

Reeve George Chatterton pointed out that for "practical administration purposes" joint operation of the course by Victoria and Saanich was impractical.

Saanich Hospital Bigger?

Coun. Joseph Casey last night recommended Saanich construct a 12-bed addition to the municipally-owned Royal Oak private hospital to take care of a backlog of aged men and women patients receiving welfare benefits.

He told council the operators were willing to pay an extra $175 monthly rent making it possible to pay for the addition in 10 years. He based his figures on a cost estimate of $125,000.

Council ordered municipal engineer Neville Life to prepare sketch plans and closer estimates of the cost of the addition.

The hospital, formerly Saanich's health centre, has 30 beds and a long waiting list of patients who can't afford other private hospital's fees.

Crippled City Woman Rescued from Water

A 72-year-old crippled woman was plucked from water at the edge of the Clover Point beach yesterday after falling and trying vainly for some time to get back on her feet.

Mrs. Ann Best was spotted by James Hennberry, 4128 Tuxedo Drive, who was walking along the path at the top of the cliff. He told police he thought the unfortunate woman was a log until he noticed a hand sticking up. He waved down a passing car driven by Richard Maza, 2473 Plumer, and together they rushed down and pulled the shivering woman from the water.

Mrs. Best was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital and released after treatment for shock. A patient in a nursing home at 1231 McKenzie, Mrs. Best told police she liked to go for walks along the beach, even though she has to use crutches to get around. She said she stumbled and fell and was unable to get up again.

Continuation of the controversial "water bombing" project—which brought fiery death to the four-man crew of a giant Martin Mars aircraft Friday—has been urged by the chairman of the board of MacMillan Bloedel & Powell River Ltd.

J. V. Clynne said from Vancouver yesterday he has "every confidence" in the project and believes the tragic crash was the result of some-

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I handle your copy for the Wichita Eagle. Your advice to the bachelor whose weekend hang-overs were aggravated by the sound of the eight-year-old twins playing jacks on the bathroom floor overhead stopped me cold.

You suggested that he give the kids a concrete slab (3 feet square) so they could play jacks in the kitchen.

Ma'm, do you know how much nine square feet of cement weighs? I do, because a few years ago I removed an old sidewalk from our back yard. It almost wrecked my back.

Please, Ann, suggest, instead, three-square feet of plywood. The bachelor could pretty it up with paint and make it downright attractive. —HELPFUL HENRY.

Dear Henry: Close on the heels of your letter came a raft of others telling me I goofed. I am catching it from all sides, particularly from building supply people. Yes—I DO know (now) how much a slab of concrete three feet square weighs. If the slab is only one inch thick, the beast weighs 112 pounds.

For my stupid mistake I am prepared to accept punishment which fits the crime. A few lashes with the wet noodle won't do. Perhaps I should walk from Chicago to Wichita carrying a 112 pound slab of cement.

Dear Ann Landers: I just read the column about the G.I. who came home from overseas and found his wife six months pregnant. I liked the way you praised him for forgiving her.

Now, let's turn the tables. If a wife catches her husband at such shenanigans she can haul him into court, take him for all he's worth, obligate him forever and make him support the kids until they're of legal age. When she gets through with him he doesn't have a barrel to put on.

A husband can't sue for alimony no matter how much in the wrong the wife may be. In this state (New Jersey) she gets half of everything even if she never earned a dime.

So, my advice to all men is this: Before you walk down that aisle, see a lawyer. —NEWARK NEWT.

Dear Newt: The traditional role of a husband in our society is to support his wife and family. I do not agree that a caught wife should have to pay alimony, nor do I think that she should be rewarded for infidelity by hauling in loot.

Your suggestion that a prospective groom should see a lawyer leaves me as cold as yesterday's mashed potatoes. If a man suspects that he needs legal protection against being taken by his ever-lovin' bride, he's better off single.

Dear Ann Landers: The big sport around here is water skiing. We own a summer home and enjoy it but our friends and relatives come every weekend with their friends and relatives, most of whom are strangers to us.

We love company, and we want them to come—but these people don't realize that it takes a lot of gas and oil to run a motor several hours a day. We can't take the expense. Yet we hesitate to say anything because we don't want to appear petty. How can we get the idea across without offending anyone? Please hurry the advice. I can see 'em comin' now. —D. E.

Dear D. E.: You can't run with both the hares and the hounds. If you "can't stand the expense" say so. They shouldn't be offended. In fact, it may even make them feel more comfortable about coming to visit.

Does almost everyone have a good time last year? If so, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Liberals Join Us? Delightful Idea Says CCF's Argue

Fish Buyer

Celebrating his 87th birthday Monday in Fernie, long-time MLA Tom Uphill, who retired last year, said he still takes a stroll to keep fit, would rather buy fish than catch them and enjoys an occasional tot of rum.

Bennett Sticks To Date

VICTORIA (CP)—Premier Bennett says he doesn't plan changing the date of a special session of the British Columbia legislature to allow CCF members to attend the founding convention of the New Party.

A motion passed by the Ontario Young Liberals to the effect that an alliance with the New Party might be a good idea, was met with keen enthusiasm by Hagen Argue in Victoria last night. (See story on Page 5.)

Mr. Argue will be on the Island for several days as he campaigns for the leadership of the New Party. He spoke to some 150 persons in Woodworth Hall.

EVEN YOUNG

"I'm delighted the Liberals want to join us — even the young Liberals," he said. "We would be glad to welcome them into the New Party any time they want to come."

"They might as well come — they're not going anywhere the way they are."

TURNED BACK

"From the very start, Fleming has offered Coyne up on a sacrificial plate. The government has resolutely turned its back on many sound proposals made by the governor and accepted others without offering any reason for making their choice."

"Fleming has consistently belittled Coyne's ideas on money devaluation and credit curbs, yet he turns around and offers us this monstrous deficit without any explanation as to how the country will offset it."

Will the Coyne-Fleming scrap touch off a general election?

OTHER FISH

Highly unlikely, said Mr. Argue, because the federal government has other fish to fry at the moment.

"We have been given a budget without a future, up to 700,000 jobless walked the streets this winter, the farm economy squeeze is pressing tighter now than ever."

Beauty Treatment

Chatterton Bolsters Council

Reeve George Chatterton returned here yesterday on a flying visit from Ottawa to bolster the strength of Saanich council to five members necessary to pass several by-laws. Coun. Gregory Cook is at present on two months leave and the other council seat is vacant following the death of Coun. Ainslie Worthington.

Toronto Strike Nearing End

TORONTO (CP)—Negotiating committees Monday night reached a basis for settlement in the turbulent 28-day strike that has crippled the housing industry in Metropolitan Toronto. It gave a promise of a return to work within three days.

High-Rise Hearing Slated in Oak Bay

A public hearing will be held in Oak Bay municipal hall at 7:30 p.m., July 3, in connection with rezoning of two areas to permit construction of two high rise apartments between six and 21 storeys high.

The areas are Victoria University property on the east side of Gordon Head Road and north side of Cedar Hill Cross Road, and some property opposite the Oak Bay Beach Hotel.

Downtown Traders 'Unfairly Rapped'

For the second time in less than a week a chamber of commerce spokesman has taken a roundhouse swing at city council.

Latest attack came last night from Robert Thompson, chairman of the chamber's retail merchants group, who charged aldermen have unfairly criticized downtown merchants over parking.

'WITHOUT GUTS'

First blow was struck by chamber president M. Aubrey Kent, who branded the council as "without the guts or imagination" to manage the city's affairs.

Mr. Thompson claimed last night that downtown parking and traffic control has been discussed at great lengths for several years with no visible result—"Nothing but a doubling of the parking rate and criticism of the retail merchants for not supplying two or three more parkades at their own expense."

PARKING DISCUSSION

Downtown parking will be one of the main items to be discussed at a breakfast meeting of the retail merchants group at 8 a.m. Thursday.

Navy Chief Due Today

Rear Admiral G. C. Towner, U.S. Navy commandant, 12th naval district, Seattle, is scheduled to visit Pacific Command headquarters here today. A 65-year-old B.C. native of honor and the head of HMCS Naden will be in attendance when the visitor calls on Rear Admiral K. W. Finch-Nayes, flag officer Pacific Coast, at HMCS Dockyard, at 9:15 this morning.

PORT ALBERNI — Sproat Lake Ratepayers' Association, led by long-time member Guy Roberts, has lost the first round of its fight to save Dog Mountain from the timber industry.

Mr. Roberts, an artist who has painted many Sproat Lake scenes, started the campaign about four months ago to prevent MacMillan, Bloedel & Powell River Ltd. falling crews from moving into the timber on Dog Mountain which divides Two Rivers Arm, and Taylor Arm, of Sproat Lake.

Since that time appeals have been made to the company, to the provincial government's parks and forestry ministers and to the local legislative member. While letters have passed back and forth, loggers have cut approximately 75 per cent of the 82 acres which constitutes the 1961 program in the area.

There are a total of 640 acres in the block of Dog Mountain held by MacMillan, Bloedel & Powell River under a tree farm licence.

Mr. Roberts claims that Dog Mountain's forests should be preserved for the enjoyment of the public as the one and only natural beauty spot remaining on the lake. Admitting that his concern is merely aesthetic, Mr. Roberts said, "surely a big company could spare this small stand of trees for the pleasure of residents and visitors to Sproat Lake."

SCAR ON SLOPE

He emphasized that the sight of the scar on the north slope of the mountain has made Sproat Lake residents "very angry."

"The damage is done now, but we hope our campaign may save some of the timber on Dog Mountain and other stands in the province," he said.

36 Trips a Day

Full Blast Weekend Ahead for Ferries

Vancouver Island's ferry connections with the mainland—already busy with the increasing flow of summer tourists—will be going full blast by the end of the week.

During the peak months of the tourist season, no less than 36 round trips will run each day between Island and mainland points.

B.C. Toll Authority will run 12 round trips daily on its popular Swartz Bay-Tsawwassen service. Black Ball Ferries is now operating 10 round trips between Nanaimo and Horseshoe Bay on the mainland.

CPR's Princess Ferries will make the Nanaimo-Vancouver return trip nine times a day. Black Ball Transport Inc.'s Mv Coho travels from Victoria to Port Angeles four times a day.

One round trip a day connects this Island with Seattle via CPR ferry.

People who would rather fly have their choice of 8 round-trip flights a day from the airport to Vancouver.

Night, Long Drives Worst in Summer

Imminence of annual holidays and the yearly rush to the highways brought an appeal yesterday from Chief Const. John Blackstock of Victoria for greater care than ever on the part of drivers.

He offered these basic, commonsense rules:

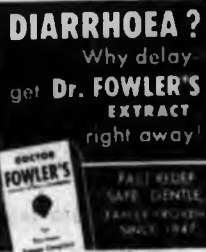

"Keep night driving to a minimum. It's twice as tiring, and the time most accidents happen.

"Don't count on the other fellow to do the right thing. A good driver can be just as dead as a bad one if he does not keep alert to possible dangers at all times. "Don't try to be an 'iron man' behind the wheel. Break up those long trips by stopping for a stretch and a coffee-break every two hours. It's better to be a little late than not to get there at all."

Bigger Militia to Get Survival Role

Mobile Columns Boosted

OTTAWA (CP)—The 42,000-member Canadian militia will be enlarged to handle an expanded national survival role, it was learned Monday night.

Some 200 mobile survival columns will be established instead of the 86 originally planned.

Main tasks of these columns would be radiation detection, reconnaissance and rescue in event of nuclear bombardment of this country.

NEW HEADQUARTERS

The army will also establish 15 headquarters 30 miles from the main target areas in Canada. These target areas have never been named but are the major cities of Canada, plus a few other vital centres.

Three main factors in widening the army's national survival role—a bigger militia, more mobile columns and target area headquarters—have all been approved by the cabinet.

DETAILS PREPARED

Army commands across Canada now are working on the details of these three factors. The size of the planned increase in the militia—the reserve army—was not accurately known.

Under the original plan for mobile columns, each unit was to comprise some 800 men. Some 200 columns would require about 160,000 men. The regular army in Canada numbers about 40,000 and the militia total was 42,001 last Dec. 31. This would leave the requirement at 78,000 men.

VOLUNTEERS ADDED

However, it is extremely unlikely the militia will take on this many. The majority of mobile columns will have regular and militia troops as a nucleus and civilian volunteers would be added.

The militia will be expanded particularly in areas near target cities.

The defence department has made no secret of its belief that the armed forces could not supply enough personnel to handle the casualties of a nuclear war.

Britain Backs Kuwait Ruler Against Iraq

(CP from AP-Reuters)

BAGHDAD, Iraq—Backed by Britain, oil-rich Kuwait pledged itself Monday to fight rather than accept Premier Abdul Karim Kassem's claims that it is an "integral part" of Iraq.

Kuwait radio broadcast a government statement saying it would defend its borders. The radio expressed confidence that peace-loving countries, "especially sister Arab states," would support its week-old independence.

SUPPORT CALLED

The radio later reported that King Saud of Saudi Arabia had cabled his support to the ruler of Kuwait, Sheikh Abdullah, and said "we are with you in the fight and struggle."

The broadcast from the neighboring sheikhdom came after the Iraqi armed forces chief-of-staff Maj. Gen. Ahmed Salem el Abdi pledged army support for Kassem's claim. Baghdad Radio broadcast 12 telegrams of support for Kassem, mainly from highly-ranked officers.

But there were indications that Iraq would find scant support elsewhere in the troubled Middle East for its claim on Kuwait.

PLOT ALLEGED

The little territory whose oil wealth earns its ruler $3,000,000 a day made its stand clear after consultations with Britain, which granted Kuwait independence only last week.

Kassem charged Britain with plotting against Iraq and the Arabs by attempting to form a "Southeast Arab Federation" of sheikhdoms to check Arab progress toward the Indian Ocean.

"Our gigantic step will uproot imperialism from this good earth," Kassem said.

No Compromise Stand on Berlin

BERLIN (UPI)—Nikita Khrushchev said Monday night on the 13th anniversary of the Berlin airlift a separate peace treaty with East Germany this year was a "compulsive necessity." He boasted Russia had the power to carry out its aims.

Khrushchev gave his newest warning to the West in a telegram to East German chief of state Walter Ulbricht.

"The Soviet Union and all nations of the socialist camp in the future will fight decisively for peace," Khrushchev said. "We have the power to halt all aggressors if they attempt to destroy the achievements of all the socialist nations." Khrushchev's stand on Berlin and Germany was uncompromising. He did not refer to Western objections that the Soviets could not unilaterally end Western rights in Berlin. "The interests of peace and European security make a German peace treaty and the normalization of conditions in West Berlin on that basis a compulsive necessity," said Khrushchev. He said a peace treaty was necessary to stabilize conditions in Germany and all of Europe and pave the way for peaceful ties between East and West Germany. In an emotional speech Sunday to a Communist party rally in Alma Ata, capital of Kazakhstan, Khrushchev declared Russia by 1970 will show the U.S. aside as the world's No. 1 nation. He said: "We, the country which has existed for only 44 years, the country which was far behind Western countries, has come to occupy second place in the world."

"England, mistress of the seas; England, which had Africa and Asia—we left them behind us. "Comrades! There is only America. "And this country can be compared to a worn-out runner. He had the prize—but others have been born, trained and are now running."

MPs REACH STALEMATE IN COYNE CONTROVERSY

OTTAWA (CP)—The Coyne dispute produced a political stalemate in the Commons Monday as all chances of a compromise disappeared.

Opposition Leader Pearson asked the government to permit James E. Coyne, Bank of Canada governor, to appear before a Commons committee on banking so that he can give his side of the controversy with the cabinet.

"The answer to his question is no," replied Finance Minister Fleming, thus turning down the only real demand made by the Liberals, who themselves have differed with Mr. Coyne's policy.

Later the Opposition leader, through a proposed amendment to the government bill asking Parliament to fire the governor, formally moved that Mr. Coyne be called as a committee witness. The CCF immediately supported the amendment.

Mr. Fleming, opening the debate, revealed that in the winter of 1957-58 Mr. Coyne had rejected "firmly and angrily" a government request involving an easing of the money supply.

'Government Defied'

That was the reason the central bank's directors, government disclaimed responsibility for the central bank's monetary policy, he said.

Mr. Coyne was given every chance to retire quietly and with dignity, Mr. Fleming said in referring to the government's May 30 request for his resignation. But the governor had defied "in the most deliberately provocative manner" 1960 Bill of Rights provisions not only the government but as an individual right.

'Coyne Made Scapegoat'

Mr. Fleming said starting in Autumn, 1959, Mr. Coyne had made public speeches extending over one and a half years dealing not with monetary policy but with tax and economic policy—the realm of the government and "one of the most controversial aspects of the political spectrum."

Mr. Fleming said Mr. Coyne's conduct since June 12 "of itself" had made his dismissal necessary.

Mr. Pearson recalled that the finance minister many times had "praised Coyne, not buried him" in the Commons.

There had been many opportunities, all ignored, for Mr. Fleming to meet "head-on" any conflict between himself and the bank governor.

Mr. Coyne was being made a scapegoat because "a banker can be treated this way without any votes being lost."

The Commons will resume its budget debate today.

It's Blackmail Coyne Charges

OTTAWA (CP)—James E. Coyne Monday accused the government of "blackmail" and "smear tactics" and demanded a full hearing by a parliamentary committee before he is fired by Parliament as governor of the Bank of Canada.

The governor made the accusations in a letter to Finance Minister Fleming Monday. Mr. Coyne said he wants to make this point: "That the position of governor of Canada's central bank will be perhaps right after the budget destroyed, and the whole situation will become merely an arm of a political machine, if the governor is to be intimidated into resigning whenever the government of the day wants him to, without any issue of policy being raised."

He said the "sudden and unexplained demand" for his resignation "and the blackmailing tactics used" suggested that the government had a plan to call a snap election—without a budget, or perhaps right after the budget.

Warriors Withdraw

Winnipeg Warriors, a doubtful quantity in the far-flung Western Hockey League since expansion plans were announced a few months ago, have asked to be counted out for at least one season.

Warriors were granted approval of their request to withdraw at a league directors' meeting in Seattle Monday. At the same time, the league announced that Coley Hall of Vancouver had been given four more days to work out financial arrangements for a WHL team to use the Cow Palace in San Francisco.

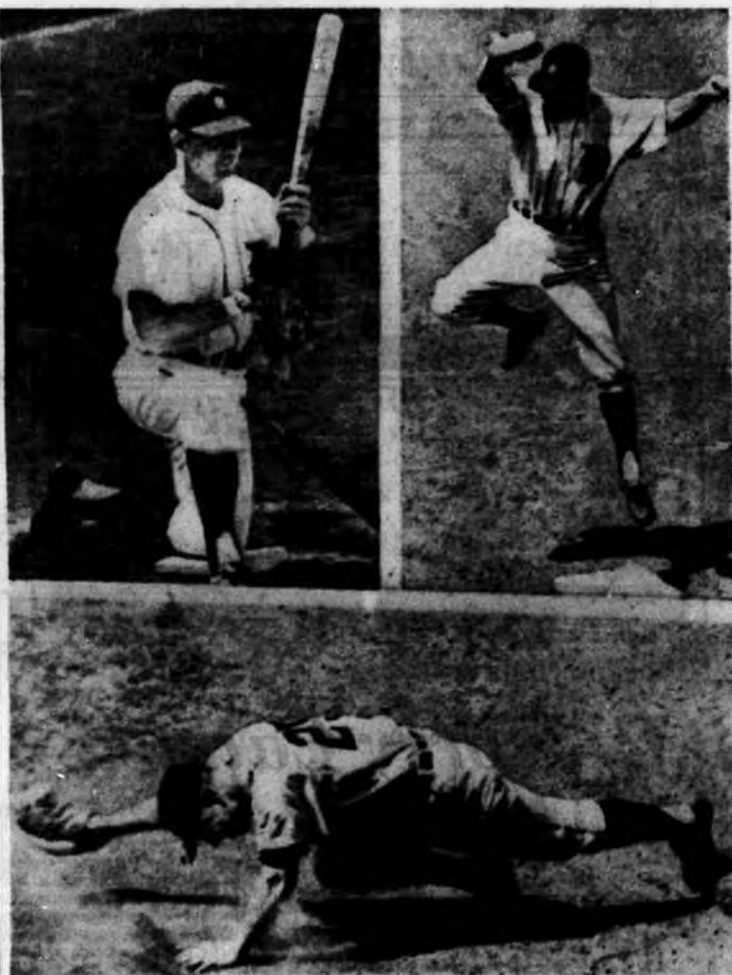

Originally, Hall was to have brought a signed agreement to Monday's meeting. He told the directors, however, that differences had arisen since he was reported to have reached agreement with Cow Palace officials in San Francisco Saturday.

Warriors have fallen on bad times financially after a few losing seasons and increased travel costs for the coming season would have proved too much of a burden.

OLYMPIC POLE vault champion Don Bragg of the U.S. says he is retiring from track and field. He tied for sixth place in the AAU championships at New York at the weekend. . . Arnold Palmer

Allan Comes West To Join Nanaimo; Team Posts Bond

By JIM TAYLOR

Nanaimo made its bluff stand up with the Inter-City Lacrosse League Sunday, and got Bobby Allan for the price of a slight sleep on the wrist.

At a meeting called to consider Nanaimo's threat to withdraw from the league if it didn't get the high-scoring Peterborough forward, the league gave the club a "severe reprimand," made it post a $500 good behavior bond, and said it would recommend to the B.C. Lacrosse Association that it let Allan come west to Nanaimo.

Last night the BCLA agreed, and Allan will be in Nanaimo within two weeks.

ALMOST NOTHING

So Nanaimo wins, hands down, after going into the game with little to back up its case. The $500 bond means almost nothing, since the club gets it back at the end of the season providing it doesn't cause any more trouble.

All three of the other clubs said before the Sunday meeting they knew Nanaimo was bluffing and never had any intention of withdrawing over the Allan issue or any of the other complaints. But the vote to ask the BCLA to let Allan in was unanimous.

League commissioner Tom Gordon said the move was made "in the best interests of lacrosse," since a player of Allan's color and ability can't help but be an asset to the league.

He will certainly be an asset to Nanaimo, which could make Vancouver and New Westminster regret their charitable attitude come playoff time.

League play resumes tonight when Victoria travels to Vancouver. Vics coach Arnie Ferguson said he plans to use Tom Wyatt for the first time, and drop Jack Showers back on defence.

Vancouver, hottest team in the league at the moment, has two players who could take over scoring leadership tonight. New Westminster's Cliff Sepka leads with 58 points, but Vancouver's Gordie Gimple is only two behind, and Fred Usselman has 52.

Not Wild About Harry

ST. LAMBERT, Que. (CP)—Bob Fisher-Smith who Friday night won the 100-yard dash in 9.6 seconds, says he feels he could beat Harry Jerome of Vancouver.

The 17-year-old high school student said he would probably meet Jerome sometime this summer.

"Sure, I think I'd have a chance to beat him. I've run against him a couple of times now and after my run Friday I think I could beat him."

Fisher-Smith tied the Canadian open record for the 100 yards Friday. But by Saturday night the 9.6 mark was history and Jerome had run the distance in 9.5 seconds, at a track meet in Victoria.

Is This Ford's 20-Game Season? Clutch Hitting Helps in 13th Victory

Whitely Ford, getting clutch ninth-inning hitting from his homer-happy New York Yankees, moved a step closer to his first 20-game season last night with an 8-6 victory over Los Angeles Angels.

It was the 13th victory against two defeats this season for the veteran left-hander, who has never won more than 19 games in a year. But he had to wait until the Yankees were down to their last out to get it.

Angels had gone ahead, 6-5, on Ken Hunt's eighth-inning homer, but Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle both drove walks off reliever Jim Donahue with one out in the ninth. Art Fowler came in to strike out Yogi Berra, but Moose Skowron followed with a 420-foot drive over the right-centre-field fence. Luis Arroyo finished up for the Yankees in the bottom of the inning.

There were six homers, three by each club. Mickey Mantle hit his 23rd. John Blanchard hit his eighth, and Skowron his 16th. Little Albie Pearson got his eighth, Steve Bilko his eighth and Hut his 12th for the Angels.

Victory left Yankees only one game behind Detroit, who split a doubleheader with Cleveland in a wild Sunday afternoon session.

In the National League, Dallas Green pitched his way out of three tight jams to save a 10 v'ory over San Francisco Giants for Philadelphia Phillies and Jim Owens, Milwaukee beat St. Louis 9-6 in the only other game.

Owens, who left the Philadelphia training camp in a huff last spring, only to rejoin the team Friday, made his first start and left the game voluntarily in the sixth when his arm began to stiffen.

He got his 10 lead in the fourth inning when Don Demeter boomed a 440-foot triple and Charlie Smith singled.

PIERSALL, EXPLODES The Sunday brawl in Cleveland was the highlight of the day. Jim Piersall, who hadn't been thrown out of a game all year, finally blew his celebrated stack.

Piersall, hit on the wrist by a pitch thrown by Jim Bunning in the fifth inning, charged the Detroit pitcher, swung ineffectively a couple of times, then engaged in a shoving match.

TEMPLE STOPPED

He wasn't stopped until Vic Power wrestled him down and sat on him. By that time Johnny Temple was in the act, and was stopped by a teammate just as he was about to throw a punch at umpire Larry Knapp.

When order was restored Detroit went on to win, 6-3, but the Indians stopped their skid with a 4-3 win in the second game.

Norm Cash drove in four runs with two homers in the opener, helping Bunning to his seventh victory, then hit one in the nightcap. He leads the league in hitting (.377) and runs batted in (.66), and has 26 homers.

BOX STREAKING

Chicago White Sox shared the spotlight Sunday, running their winning streak to 10 games with 7-3 and 6-3 wins over Washington. The Sox, once deep in last place, have now won 17 of 18, and are tied with Baltimore for fifth place, only half a game out of fourth.

Shortstop Ronnie Hansen won for the Orioles with a 14th-inning homer that beat Los Angeles 3-2.

Sixteen pitchers saw action in that one, and it took four hours and 42 minutes to complete.

THE PALMER METHOD

IMPACT IS THE MOMENT OF TRUTH

1. WHAT HAPPENS WHEN CLUB HEAD MEETS BALL DETERMINES THE OUTCOME OF ANY SHOT. MOVEMENTS MADE UP TO THIS POINT ARE IMPORTANT IN THAT THEY MAKE THE CORRECT IMPACT EASIER TO ACCOMPLISH. TODAY'S TRY TO GET TO ALL SHOTS, FROM THE DRIVE TO THE SHORTEST CHIP — WITH THE EXCEPTION OF PUTTING, WHICH IS A GAME IN ITSELF. FIRST, AS YOU SEE HERE, AIM WITH THE BOTTOM EDGE OF THE CLUBHEAD — NOT THE TOP EDGE, WHICH FLARES OPEN IN MANY CASES.

2. IN EVERY SHOT, THE CLUB HEAD MUST BE SQUARE TO THE TARGET AT IMPACT. REMEMBER THAT THE RICHES OF THE CLUBHEAD IS WHAT RAISES THE BALL INTO THE AIR. IT NEEDS NO "HELP" FROM YOU.

3. THEREFORE, AIM TO FLATTEN YOUR SWING IN THE IMPACT AREA, SO THAT THE CLUBHEAD FOLLOWS THE LINE OF FLIGHT BOTH BEFORE AND AFTER IMPACT FOR AS LONG AS IS POSSIBLE.

4. A COMMON GOLF ERROR IS PICTURED HERE. THE GOLFER TRIES TO HELP THE BALL INTO THE AIR BY FLIPPING THE CLUB WITH HIS WRISTS AT IMPACT. THIS WON'T WORK. WHAT USUALLY HAPPENS IS THAT THE BALL IS STRUCK WITH THE BOTTOM EDGE OF THE CLUBHEAD AND SKITTERS ALONG THE GROUND. IF THE BALL DOESN'T GET INTO THE AIR, THE SHOT IS WALK AND INEFFECTUAL — WELL SHORT OF YOUR TARGET.

Babe Ruths Planning Baseball Tournament

Victoria, which drew 15,000 to seven games in the 1959 B.C. Babe Ruth League baseball tournament, will hold it again this year July 27-30 at Royal Athletic Park.

Padres Can't Score Against Vancouver

Vancouver Mounties have had their troubles this season, but if they could play all their games against San Diego Padres they would be miles in front in the Pacific Coast Baseball League.

Padres haven't been able to score a run off Mounties pitching for 29 consecutive innings. Mounties beat them 5-0 Sunday, then took a doubleheader by scores of 5-0 and 10-0 in Vancouver last night.

Righthander George Bamberger outduelled Herb Score in the seven-inning opener, giving up four hits compared to three by the wild ex-major leaguer. Howie Gosa continued his hitting streak with a homer.

In the second game Ron Platche got the shutout on a five-hitter.

San Diego 000 000 0-0 4 2
Vancouver 000 001 3-3 9 0
Score and Status: Napier (3), Bamberger and Angus. Home run Vancouver—Gosa.

Second Game—

Softball Collision Just Dull Thud

The big battle expected last night when Chinese Students and Maycocks collided for first place in the Senior "B" Softball League was more like a rout.

Maycocks took care of that pounding pitcher Ralph Jay for 17 hits on the way to an 11-1 victory that broke the first-place tie and gave them a one-game lead.

Don McIntosh Lyall Cornett and Al Robertson had three hits each for Maycocks. Pitcher Gordie Houston had an eight-hitter, striking out 14 and walking two.

Houston would have had a home run too but for one minor point. He forgot to touch third base, and was held to a double.

Students scored six goals in the final quarter to come from behind. Dave Collett scored three and Bob Jones two. Other Jokers goals went to Dave Nelson and Whitely Wakelyn, while the Kowalyks handled Foul Bay scoring, Ed with two goals and Norm with one.

Game tonight is 8:30. Juvenile "A" and juvenile "B" teams play a preliminary game at 7.

Jokers again tonight at Memorial Arena they plan to have a strengthened lineup to try and make up for a 7-3 beating they took from Jokers Sunday.

Jokers scored six goals in the final quarter to come from behind. Dave Collett scored three and Bob Jones two. Other Jokers goals went to Dave Nelson and Whitely Wakelyn, while the Kowalyks handled Foul Bay scoring, Ed with two goals and Norm with one.

Esquimalt BCE Near Pact

Esquimalt council and the B.C. Electric seem to be resolving long-standing differences with a compromise scheme on bus service routes and timetables.

Council last night accepted the BCE's latest proposal on a "trial basis," providing the firm is willing to allow a transfer point at Esquimalt Road and Admirals Road.

The BCE proposal grants a loop circuit, sought by council, during non-rush hours such as evenings, Sundays and holidays. Rush hour schedules will remain as they are now.

The non-rush hour plan calls for a 20-minute service by three buses, two running along Esquimalt Road between Dockyard and the city and the third making a continuous loop along Head, Colville, Admirals and Munro back to Head.

SECOND POINT

Transfer point was designed at Head and Esquimalt, but council requested a second transfer point at Admirals and Esquimalt.

"It looks to me like this is a good deal for the municipality," said the reeve, who has fought a long battle for loop service in Esquimalt.

Dead Sailor's Gear Reported 'Perfect'

The navy said yesterday the underwater breathing apparatus used by a seaman at the time of his death by drowning was in "perfect" working condition.

Authorities ordered test of the equipment following death of LS Ralph Collins June 19 while swimming near HMCS Sumasvale during a recreational period. The accident occurred near North Pender Island.

A spokesman for RCN Pacific Command said yesterday

thorough testing of the underwater breathing apparatus showed "beyond doubt" that the equipment was in working order at the time of the accident.

Meanwhile, an official board of inquiry is studying reports on the seaman's death and has received finding by a civilian coroner's jury of death by drowning.

Results of the naval inquiry are not expected to be made known until its report is made to Ottawa, possibly in several weeks, a spokesman indicated.

Mac-Powell Head:

Keep 'Water Bombers' Flying

Continuation of the controversial "water bombing" project—which brought fiery death to the four-man crew of a giant Martin Mars aircraft Friday—has been urged by the chairman of the board of MacMillan Bloedel & Powell River Ltd.

J. V. Clyne said from Vancouver yesterday he has "every confidence" in the project and believes the tragic crash was the result of something other than structural deficiency in the renovated aircraft.

While he stressed his was only one of five timber companies involved in the experiment, he said he was in favor of an immediate start on converting one of the remaining three planes.

"Since the job of conversion requires several months, I feel work should start without delay," he said. "I feel the experiment has already proven this method of fighting fire to be one of tremendous value."

An RCMP officer who led the ground investigating party in to the crash some west of Parkville said the impact had literally smashed the aircraft to pieces.

Most of the wreckage was heaped within an area of 75 by 30 feet. One body lay outside the aircraft but the other three were jammed in the cockpit.

An inquest, convened Saturday afternoon, was adjoined to July 4 at 7:30 p.m. in Parkville municipal hall. Evidence will be heard at that time.

Forest Industries Flying Tankers Ltd., the firm which operated the giant plane for the group of forest products companies, has not made a decision on whether or not to continue the program.

President Ernest Shorter said "nothing will be decided until the investigation has been completed and reports are in."

Second Look Urged

Year's Warning to Drivers New Proposal for Douglas

Scurrah Orders Offstreet Survey

Victoria and Saanich officials have been asked to take a second look at the Capital Improvement District Commission's plan to beautify the Douglas Street entrance to the city and ban curbside parking.

Mayor Percy Scurrah has ordered a detailed survey of the city section of Douglas, north of the Fountain Circle, in the wake of an unofficial survey which claims 19 of 28 merchants opposed to the parking ban have their own offstreet parking facilities.

WARNING PERIOD

The CIDC plan was altered yesterday. Instead of an immediate ban on parking along Douglas between the Trans-Canada Highway and the Fountain Circle, the CIDC suggested a warning period of about 12 months before the ban goes into effect.

Councils have been given until July 15 before the CIDC offer to give the $180,000 project to Victoria and Saanich lapses. Previous deadline was June 15.

WILL FIND OUT

Mayor Scurrah said he intends to find out exactly what the offstreet parking situation is along Douglas.

"Council took the petition at its face value and if some of these people do have offstreet parking it must be taken into account," he said.

"I think people with off street parking are not going to be affected in the same way as people who have no parking."

REVERSED STAND

City council had approved the CIDC plan and had passed a bylaw to ban parking along Douglas, but reversed its stand last Thursday when a petition signed by 28 merchants was presented, objecting to the parking ban.

A similar petition was given to Saanich council a week ago by a group of Saanich merchants with stores along the disputed section of Douglas.

DEADLINE GONE

Saanich, with only four councilors present, tabled the whole matter, in effect killing it as the June 15 deadline had gone by.

Both groups of merchants charged they had never been asked for comment on the proposal and members of both councils said a member of the CIDC had assured them all merchants were in favor of the parking ban.

NOT AUTHORIZED

J. Everett Brown, chairman of the CIDC, said last night no CIDC member had been authorized to speak to the merchants and suggested any approach was made on a private basis.

Reeve George Chatterton, who attended the CIDC meeting, said he did not think Saanich would check the merchants' parking.

COMING CLOSE

"I have felt for a long time that eventually we would have to restrict parking on Douglas," he said. "And the time was coming close anyhow for the section between Cloverdale and the city boundary."

But Bud Price, one of the city merchants who collected signatures for the city petition, claimed offstreet parking would still injure merchants.

Mr. Price, whose store is close to the Douglas-Burnside Road intersection, said customers would not drive off Douglas to park on Burnside to visit his store.

CLAUDE HARRISON ... starting plan

Tunnels Urged Under Douglas!

Claude Harrison, former mayor of Victoria, jumped into the Douglas Street beautification controversy yesterday with a startling plan which includes tunnels under Douglas Street for cross traffic.

In a letter to Mayor Percy Scurrah and city aldermen, Mr. Harrison called for:

- No parking along Douglas Street.
- Offstreet parking provided by lanes at the rear of premises facing Douglas Street, city-owned parking lots where possible and legislation to force provision of "basement" parking when new buildings are constructed along Douglas.

- Utilization of natural ravines for underpasses to carry traffic under Douglas rather than impede the north-south flow.
- Construction of a bridge across Rock Bay to connect Store Street with Rock Bay Avenue.

- Redesigning of the Fountain Circle, using traffic lights if necessary for traffic control.

Mr. Harrison, a city lawyer, said the fountain in the Fountain Circle at one time had several beautifully-designed cranes included in it.

He asked if they could be replaced to improve the fountain.

The letter will go before the July 13 meeting of city council, when the question of improving the Douglas Street entrance to Victoria will be under discussion.

Six Hats in the Ring For Saanich Seat

Noon today is the deadline for nominations for a July 8 Saanich by-election called to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Coun. Almas Worthington.

Six candidates so far are Robert Ostler, 3339 Doncaster; Arnold Coey, 129 Homer; Charles Parker, 503 Baker; Robert Chard, 3774 Hobbs; G. Stanley Eden, 3115 Wascana; Lionel Speller, 2416 Bethune.

Cigaret Machine Leads List of Weekend Loot

Burglars struck at several places in Victoria during the weekend but picked up loot at only three.

Thieves who broke into the home of D. K. Guest, 2514 Empire, took about $80 in cash and a radio and leather case, valued at $100.

Ambitious burglars who entered the Shell Tye Service Station, Esquimalt and Tye Roads, made off with an entire cigarette vending machine.

An hour later, a report from CNR officials led police to the broken machine, on the bank between the service station and the railway.

There were still a few packages of cigarettes and 95 cents in coins in the machine.

Other thieves struck the E. Lipsett Fishing Supplies, 509 Bastion. Only article missing was an electric hand drill, valued at about $11.

Anger Flares Against E & N

Esquimalt council will ask the Board of Transport Commissioners to force the E & N Railway to reduce speed of its trains at the Admirals Road crossing until signal lights can be installed there.

Decision to approach the board came after an angry municipal engineer, John Graeme, told council he received no satisfaction from an E & N official on the question of reduced speeds at the five-way intersection.

Council had sought the railway's opinion on the advisability of a "slow order" at the crossing, and had received a letter from D. C. Hartley, the railway's superintendent, suggesting there would be less danger if trains don't go slow, charged Mr. Graeme.

"We got a letter back saying people pay more attention if trains go faster—they also die faster if they get hit, as I see it," said the engineer.

He said it was "a horrible thought" how fast the Dayliner coach goes through the intersection.

Mr. Hartley's letter said in part:

"We are not prepared to agree to a slow order on trains even for a temporary period as this has not been considered necessary in the past."

"Our experience is that the slower trains go the greater the disregard by the public."

Moss Problem

Hillside Blazes Away Near B.C.'s Mansion

Victoria firemen battled for four hours yesterday to kill a grass and brush fire on the densely-grown southern slope of Government House grounds.

Cause of the fire, reported at 10:20 a.m., was not determined.

STOOD WATCH

Pumps from the main and James Bay firehalls poured water for hours on the blazing hillside. Several men stood watch after the trucks had gone, for fear of a flare-up in the dry grass and brush.

"It's the moss that's a problem in fires like this," said Fire Chief James Baylis. "You have to drown every spark or you're back in four hours doing it all over again."

Tourists At Loss In Park

Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau has been asked to tell Vancouver residents where the comfort stations where located in Beacon Hill Park.

At a meeting of city council's parks committee yesterday, parks supervisor W. H. Warren reported many Vancouver residents were visiting Beacon Hill Park by the bus load.

He said he had received complaints that some tourists "could not find the toilets, could not find the picnic area, and generally didn't have a good time."

The committee decided to ask the publicity bureau to give the bus companies the information.

Magistrate Warns Small Boat Owners

NANAIMO (CP) — Magistrate Lionel Beever-Potts said Monday fines will be increased for violations of small boat regulations. He made the comment as he fined John Mihalech $25 for operating a 12-foot boat without life jackets and fire extinguishers.

VANCOUVER (CP) — An RCAF plane left here near noon Monday to fly to Tofino, on the west coast of Vancouver Island, to pick up a prematurely-born baby.

The child was flown to hospital here.

The RCAF Otter left less than an hour after the flight was requested by deputy provincial health officer Dr. G. F. Elliott.

PORT ALBERNI — The front door of the new Bank of Montreal building was smashed over the weekend and RCMP are questioning three youths in connection with the incident.

Police said that charges are contemplated.

ALBERNI—RCMP will continue to patrol the boat launching area of Spruce Lake Park where numerous tickets for illegal parking were handed out over the weekend. A spokesman for Alberni detachment said Monday.

He said that in spite of "no parking" signs at the site, vehicles were crowded into the area to the extent that there was only one lane left open for traffic to and from the launching ramp.

ALBERNI — A year-old of fence brought Walter Russell Jones before the magistrate where he pleaded guilty to being in possession of liquor on an Indian reserve.

The accused, who had been absent from the district for 12 months, found that the charge had not been forgotten in the interim. He was fined $15 with $5.50 costs.

Clarence Makokoro, of Port Alberni, was fined $20 and $5.50 costs when he appeared before the magistrate charged with driving without due care and attention following an accident on Alberni highway.

ALBERNI—Police are investigating a hit-and-run accident which occurred Sunday afternoon on River Road at the curve near Sossam Bridge.

A vehicle driven by D. Baron-Tosold, Port Alberni, was sideswiped by a car which attempted to pass two vehicles on the curve.

The driver failed to stop.

Damage to Baron-Tosold's car was estimated at $75.

GANGES — Four major awards were made, Friday, to graduating students of the Salt Spring Island High School. Anne McColeman won the Ladies Auxiliary, Royal Canadian Legion, bursary of $200; Duncan Hepburn the H.M.S. Ganges Chapter, IOOE, scholarship of $125; and Gladys Patterson and Lorraine Two were awarded Parent-Teacher Association bursaries of $100 each.

Citizenship awards were presented to Fred Hanke, Alan Waterfall and Henry Caldwell, in Grades 10, 11 and 12 respectively.

A departure day banquet and dance for graduating students will be held on June 30.

PORT ALBERNI—A Cumberland man was fined $125 with $6.50 court costs and his driving license was suspended for three months as the result of an arrest made Saturday night.

Berry John Morrison 20 was charged in Port Alberni court Monday with criminal negligence after RCMP chased his car through Port Alberni to Alberni at "excessive speeds" on Saturday night.

DUNCAN — City alderman Steve Saunders is progressing favorably in King's Daughters' Hospital from a heart attack. Ald. Saunders was taken to hospital last Thursday.

LADYSMITH — Mrs. Kaye Jones, 65, pioneer nurse, graduate of the Ladysmith General Hospital and affiliate of the Vancouver General Hospital, died in hospital here on Saturday following a brief illness.

Born at Union Bay, 1896, deceased came to Ladysmith about 1904, and except for five years residence at Victoria, had resided here all her life. Her husband, the late Stanley Jones, predeceased her six years ago.

Active in private duty nursing in earlier years, Mrs. Jones had been on the staff of the Ladysmith general hospital for the past 13 years. She was acting matron when the new hospital was opened, 1957, and for the past four years was supervisor of the operating room.

Community work included volunteer service in the field of public health and the teaching of home-nursing classes.

Survivors include three sisters, Mrs. A. E. Jones, Ladysmith; Mrs. Violet Hulby, Vancouver; Mrs. Robert Cook, Detroit, U.S.A.

CHEMAINUS—A resident of this district for the last 20 years, George Lamont, 79, Sunday died at Chemainus General Hospital.

Born at Kirkconnell, Scotland, he came to Canada in 1920, living in Saskatchewan. He later moved to this district and was a former employee of Bamberton Cement. He retired in 1954.

Mr. Lamont is survived by a brother, Henry in Scotland; one nephew, George, of Chemainus, and one niece, Mrs. Grace Martin, also of Chemainus.

Funeral services will be held at Chemainus United Church on June 28.

CHEMAINUS — Mrs. Marjorie Joyce Irvine, 38, a resident here for the last 10 years, has died in Chemainus hospital.

Born in Saskatchewan, she had previously lived at Honey-moon Bay and Victoria. She is survived by her husband, Stuart, two daughters, Gail Heather and Janis Anne.

School Board Headache Almost Over

DUNCAN—Cowichan school board's annual headache of finding sufficient teachers to staff its schools is just about over for another year.

A. D. Jones, superintendent of schools, reports that 35 provisional appointments have been made. This is an increase of five over last year.

EXTRA TEACHERS
Additional classrooms this September make it necessary for the trustees to secure extra teachers.

Mr. Jones admitted that although the board has not been successful in obtaining all top candidates, it does have the runners-up.

YOUNG MEN
The school superintendent said he has concentrated on "young men who are athletically inclined—but they are terribly hard to find."

The prospect of obtaining fully qualified teachers for the fall term has been a worry for trustees for the last couple of months.

OTHER BOARDS

Along with other school boards, Cowichan trustees were seeking specialists in physical education, commerce teachers and counsellors.

The main concern was for staff for the Cowichan high school.

On the elementary school level, teachers are more readily available "because we are graduating more teachers in this category," Mr. Jones explained.

The school board just has three more anxious days to go regarding staff resignations. The teachers have until the end of this month to submit their resignations. In previous years, teachers had until July to resign.

Pilots to Carry Friend to Grave

CAMPBELL RIVER—B.C. Airlines pilots will be pallbearers today at the funeral

WALLY WIGGINS

here of Wally J. Wiggins who was killed last week when the giant Martin Mars water-bomber, of which he was co-pilot, crashed.

The Rev. Oliver Howard, of Campbell River United Church, will officiate at the ceremony which will be held at Sutton's Funeral Parlor.

Mr. Wiggins had been with B.C. Airlines for the past 10 years during which time he had been stationed at Campbell River, Sandspit and Queen Charlotte Islands. Lately he was manager at the B.C. Airlines-Port Alberni base.

Mr. Wiggins had lived at Willow Point, just south of Campbell River for many years. His parents and sister still live there.

He is survived by his wife, Marion, and four children, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wiggins and a sister, Doris (Mrs. Eugene Christensen.)

May Queen Crowned At Kyuquot Festival

KYUQUOT—The annual sports day and crowning of the May Queen was celebrated recently. Festivities began with a float parade of decorated rowboats towed around the harbor by the Fisheries vessel Sarda.

Winners were: first prize, "Winter Wonderland," Pamela Smith, Lorraine Ponsford and Sandra Smith; second, "Raft," Chic Chidley; third, Red Cross float, Rhonda Easa and Jackie Morris.

The May Queen and her attendants paraded from the government wharf to the hall where Rennie Smith, Grade 8 schoolgirl, was crowned. Queen Rennie presented the citizenship cup to the retiring queen, Juanita DeLisle.

Several school awards were next presented by the teachers Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Jackson. Largest award, $30 donated by the IODE for the Grade 8 student with the highest marks, went to Carol Bennet.

Maclean writing certificates were presented to Jacqueline Morris, Connie Smith and Ronnie Ballance.

Honor medals for the highest marks throughout the entire year were given in the senior room to Jacqueline Morris and Rhonda Easa. Elementary room winners were Leslie Ballance, Connie Smith and Sherry Kayra. Achievement awards went to Chic Chidley and Pamela Smith. Attendance awards were given to Chic Chidley, Ronnie Ballance, Leslie Ballance and Dennis Morris for the most perfect school attendance throughout the year.

Sports between the Kyuquot school, the Fair Harbour school and the Kyuquot Indian village school completed the day.

Fight to Save Dog Mountain

Ratepayers Lose Round

PORT ALBERNI—Sproat Lake Ratepayers' Association, led by long-time member Guy Roberts, has lost the first round of its fight to save Dog Mountain from the timber industry.

Mr. Roberts, an artist who has painted many Sproat Lake scenes, started the campaign about four months ago to prevent MacMillan, Bloedel & Powell River Ltd. falling crews from moving into the timber on Dog Mountain which divides Two Rivers Arm, and Taylor Arm, of Sproat Lake.

Since that time appeals have been made to the company, to the provincial government's and to the local legislative member. While letters have passed back and forth, loggers have cut approximately 75 per cent of the 82 acres which constitutes the 1961 program in the area.

There are a total of 640 acres in the block of Dog Mountain held by MacMillan, Bloedel & Powell River under a tree farm licence.

Mr. Roberts claims that Dog Mountain's forests should be preserved for the enjoyment of the public as the one and only natural beauty spot remaining on the lake. Admitting that his concern is merely aesthetic, Mr. Roberts said, "surely a big company could spare this small stand of trees for the pleasure of residents and visitors to Sproat Lake."

SCAR ON SLOPE

He emphasized that the sight of the scar on the north slope of the mountain has made Sproat Lake residents "very angry."

"The damage is done now, but we hope our campaign may save some of the timber on Dog Mountain and other stands in the province," he said.

Missing Guns Elude Navy Diving Team

DUNCAN—Navy divers thought they had their sights trained on an underwater bundle of rifles here Monday.

After searching the waters of Koksilah River for the best part of the day, their haul was just one rusty, unserviceable double barrel off a shotgun.

The navy divers, with members of the RCMP detachment in Duncan, thought they had located four of the rifles stolen from the armouries here last November.

The clue was supplied by Clarence Daniels, a young Indian boy from Koksilah. Several days ago, Clarence was swimming in the Koksilah River, just off the Trans-Canada Highway, when he found a rifle on the riverbed.

He took his find to the RCMP who then notified navy divers in Victoria.

Monday, the divers gave the riverbed a good going over—but without finding the four other rifles. They just came up with part of an old shotgun.

So the whereabouts of the other four rifles still remains an unsolved mystery.

Ratepayers Protest Salt Spring Move

FULFORD—Protesting the ruling of school district 64 board amalgamating the north and south ends of Salt Spring Island as impractical and undemocratic, south end ratepayers have been registering their annoyance at a number of protest meetings.

Another will be held tomorrow night.

Another ruling which ratepayers protest is that making the election of all trustees at large rather than from specified areas.

Mr. A. D. Dane, who resigned as a trustee in protest over the board's action, said he "could not go on under the circumstances created by the board which was not ruling democratically in accordance with the people's wishes."

"The board has no reason for the change in the ruling and disregarded my own protests and those of the people of south Salt Spring," he said.

Mr. Dane, who has represented the south end for eight years as school board trustee, was given a unanimous vote of confidence.

The protest meeting on Friday night urged that the matter be again considered by the board and if necessary that the matter be put to a vote.

IF YOU'VE MADE A HABIT OF ALWAYS BUYING THE SAME MAKE OF CAR '61 IS THE RIGHT YEAR TO BREAK IT

CHECK THE PRICE THE MAN WHO SELLS DODGE WILL PAY FOR YOUR PRESENT CAR
The man who sells Dodge Dart wants to sell as many of them as he can as fast as he can. He also wants your present car on his used car lot. It follows that right now, his trade-in allowances are very, very generous indeed!

CHECK THE PRICE OF A BRAND NEW DODGE
Dodge Dart is every inch a big car. Yet it's priced right down with the low-priced models. So take the generous allowance the man who sells Dodge will give you for your present car from the low, low price of a brand new Dodge Dart, and you've got yourself a peach of a new car deal!

WARRANTED 12,000 MILES OR ONE FULL YEAR (WHICHEVER OCCURS FIRST)

CHECK ALL THE THINGS DODGE HAS THAT OTHERS HAVEN'T
UNIBODY. One piece, all-welded construction gives body extreme strength. No nuts, no bolts, no rattles.

SIX-DIP RUSTPROOFING. Every Dodge Dart is dipped six times in special rustproofing compounds. Helps prevent rust forming inside as well as outside bodywork.

SLANT SIX ENGINE. Inclined six gives 20% more power than the old fashioned kind of six. Gives more miles to the tankful, too!

TORSION-AIRE RIDE. Famous torsion bar suspension takes the sway out of curves, nose-dives out of stopping, squats out of getaways. Smoothest ride on the road today.

Bigger Militia to Get Survival Role

Mobile Columns Boosted

OTTAWA (CP)—The 42,000-member Canadian militia will be enlarged to handle an expanded national survival role, it was learned Monday night.

Some 200 mobile survival columns will be established instead of the 66 originally planned.

Main tasks of these columns would be radiation detection, reconnaissance and rescue in event of nuclear bombardment of this country.

NEW HEADQUARTERS

The army will also establish 15 headquarters 30 miles from the main target areas in Canada. These target areas have never been named but are the major cities of Canada, plus a few other vital centres.

These three main factors in widening the army's national survival role—a bigger militia, more mobile columns and target area headquarters—have all been approved by the cabinet.

DETAILS PREPARED

Army commands across Canada now are working on the details of these three factors. The size of the planned increase in the militia—the reserve army—was not accurately known.

Under the original plan for mobile columns, each unit was to comprise some 800 men. Some 200 columns would require about 160,000 men. The regular army in Canada numbers about 40,000 and the militia total was 42,000 last Dec. 31. This would leave the requirement at 78,000 men.

VOLUNTEERS ADDED
However, it is extremely unlikely the militia will take on this many. The majority of mobile columns will have regular and militia troops as a nucleus and civilian volunteers would be added.

The militia will be expanded particularly in areas near target cities.

The defence department has made no secret of its belief that the armed forces could not supply enough personnel to handle the casualties of a nuclear war.

Britain Backs Kuwait Ruler Against Iraq

(CP from AP-Reuters)

BAGHDAD, Iraq—Backed by Britain, oil-rich Kuwait pledged itself Monday to fight rather than accept Premier Abdul Karim Kassem's claims that it is an "integral part" of Iraq.

Kuwait radio broadcast a government statement saying it would defend its borders. The radio expressed confidence that "peace-loving countries," "especially sister Arab states," would support its week-old independence.

SUPPORT CALLED

The radio later reported that King Saud of Saudi Arabia had cabled his support to the ruler of Kuwait, Sheikh Abdullah, and said "we are with you in the fight and struggle."

The broadcast from the neighboring sheikdom came after the Iraqi armed forces chief-of-staff Maj. Gen. Ahmed Salem el Abdi pledged army support for Kassem's claim. Baghdad Radio broadcast 12 telegrams of support for Kassem, mainly from highly-ranked officers.

But there were indications that Iraq would find scant support elsewhere in the troubled Middle East for its claim on Kuwait.

PLOT ALLEGED

The little territory whose oil wealth earns its ruler $3,000,000 a day made its stand clear after consultations with Britain, which granted Kuwait independence only last week.

Kassem charged Britain with plotting against Iraq and the Arabs by attempting to form a "Southeast Arab Federation" of sheikdoms to check Arab progress toward the Indian Ocean.

"Our gigantic step will uproot imperialism from this good earth," Kassem said.

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Ministers Hayato Ikeda of Japan and Diefenbaker of Canada agreed Monday to promote closer trade links between their two countries, including establishment of Japanese industry in Canada.

They agreed to establish a Canadian-Japanese ministerial committee to exchange visits and study the economic problems of the two countries.

IS INTERESTED

A joint communique issued after Mr. Ikeda's departure said Japan is interested in developing Japanese investments in Canada, and Mr. Diefenbaker "indicated mutually satisfactory arrangements would be made for the entry to Canada of Japanese nationals required in connection with certain of the operations of these enterprises."

JOHN D INVITED

Mr. Ikeda also renewed Japan's invitation for the Canadian prime minister to visit Tokyo, and Mr. Diefenbaker accepted—leaving the date to be fixed "at a mutually convenient time in the near future."

Earlier, after the two leaders met in Mr. Diefenbaker's office for 90 minutes, they said Japan would provide a big market for Canadian raw materials, principally iron ore and copper.

REAFFIRMED

The communique on the 24-hour visit to Ottawa said Mr. Ikeda reaffirmed the principle of orderly marketing of Japanese goods in Canada, to avoid injurious competition with Canadian industry.

Mr. Ikeda said he was "very much satisfied" with his talks with the Canadian government.

Japan would double her imports of Canadian goods in the next decade, he predicted.

TRADE DEFICIT

He hoped Canada would more than double her imports of Japanese goods, to overcome a trade deficit his country now has with Canada.

He admitted, however, he was not satisfied with the system of quotas Japan has had to apply to voluntarily restrict exports of textiles and other products to Canada. With increased trade, he hoped they could be dropped.

BROUGHT ABOUT

The increase in trade last year totalling $280,000,000, would be brought about by doubling Japan's gross national product.

DONALD FLEMING

OTTAWA (CP)—The Coyne dispute produced a political stalemate in the Commons Monday as all chances of a compromise disappeared.

Opposition Leader Pearson asked the government to permit James E. Coyne, Bank of Canada governor, to appear before a Commons committee on banking so that he can give his side of the controversy with the cabinet.

"The answer to his question is no," replied Finance Minister Fleming, thus turning down the only real demand made by the Liberals, who themselves have differed with Mr. Coyne's policy.

Later the Opposition leader, through a proposed amendment to the government bill asking Parliament to fire the governor, formally moved that Mr. Coyne be called as a committee witness. The CCF immediately supported the amendment.

Mr. Fleming, opening the debate, disclosed that in the winter of 1957-58 Mr. Coyne had rejected "firmly and angrily" a government request involving an easing of the money supply.

'Government Defied'

That was the reason the central bank's directors, government disclaimed responsibility for the central bank's monetary policy, he said.

Mr. Coyne was given every chance to retire quietly and with dignity, Mr. Fleming said in referring to the government's May 30 request for his resignation. But the governor had defied "in the most deliberately provocative manner" not only the government but as an individual right.

Mr. Fleming said the central issue is the question of who governs the country.

Mr. Pearson said the only real question is one of "decency and justice"—whether Mr. Coyne will get the fair hearing which the government's own 1960 Bill of Rights proclaims as an individual right.

'Coyne Made Scapegoat'

Mr. Fleming said starting in autumn, 1959, Mr. Coyne had made public speeches extending over one and a half years dealing not with monetary policy but with tax and economic policy—the realm of the government and "one of the most controversial aspects of the political spectrum."

Mr. Fleming said Mr. Coyne's conduct since June 12 "of itself" had made his dismissal necessary.

Mr. Pearson recalled that the finance minister many times had "praised Coyne, not buried him" in the Commons.

There had been many opportunities, all ignored, for Mr. Fleming to meet "head-on" any conflict between himself and the bank governor.

Mr. Coyne was being made a scapegoat because "a banker can be treated this way without any votes being lost."

The Commons will resume its budget debate today.

1,000 Flee Blast Area

We Have the Power—Nikita

No Compromise Stand on Berlin

BERLIN (UPI)—Nikita Khrushchev said Monday night on the 13th anniversary of the Berlin airlift a separate peace treaty with East Germany this year was a "compulsive necessity." He boasted Russia had the power to carry out its aims.

Khrushchev gave his newest warning to the West in a telegram to East German chief of state Walter Ulbricht.

"The Soviet Union and all nations of the socialist camp in the future will fight decisively for peace," Khrushchev said. "We have the power to halt all aggressors if they attempt to destroy the achievements of all the socialist nations."

Khrushchev's stand on Berlin and Germany was uncompromising. He did not refer to Western objections that the Soviets could not unilaterally end Western rights in Berlin.

"The interests of peace and European security make a German peace treaty and the normalization of conditions in West Berlin on that basis a compulsive necessity," said Khrushchev.

He said a peace treaty was necessary to stabilize conditions in Germany and all of Europe and pave the way for peaceful ties between East and West Germany.

In an emotional speech Sunday to a Communist party rally in Alma Ata, capital of Kazakhstan, Khrushchev declared Russia by 1970 will show the U.S. aside as the world's No. 1 nation. He said: "We, the country which has existed for only 44 years, the country which was far behind Western countries, has come to occupy second place in the world."

"England, mistress of the seas; England, which had Africa and Asia—we left them behind us."

"Comrades! There is only America."

"And this country can be compared to a worn-out runner. He had the prize—but others have been born, trained and are now running."

It's Blackmail Coyne Charges

OTTAWA (CP)—James E. Coyne Monday accused the government of "blackmail" and "sneaky tactics" and demanded a full hearing by a parliamentary committee before he is fired by Parliament as governor of the Bank of Canada.

The governor made the accusations in a letter to Finance Minister Fleming.

Mr. Coyne said he wants to make this point: "That the position of governor of Canada's central bank will be destroyed, and the whole institution will become merely an arm of a political machine, if the governor is to be terrorized into resigning whenever the government of the day wants him to, without any issue of policy being raised."

He said the "sudden and unexplained demand" for his resignation "and the blackmailing tactics used" suggested that the government had a plan to call a snap election—without a budget, or perhaps right after the budget.

Bank Chief Hails Budget

VANCOUVER (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming's budget is "realistic and believable" and gives Canadians the opportunity to better their competitive position. A. T. Lambert, president of the Toronto-Dominion Bank, said Monday.
